3 Soldiers Murdered

MODOC, S.C. (AP) — A sheriff says robbery apparently was the motive for the slayings of three soldiers whose mutilated bodies were found on a lake shore near here.

McCormick County Sheriff J.P. Gable said the victims' pockets had been emptied. He said the bodies were mutilated by stabblings, cuts, blows by a heavy instrument and gunshot wounds.

The victims' bodies were found early Sunday on the shore of Lake Clark Hill. Authorities said the three Ft. Gordon, Ga., soldiers were slain Saturday. The sheriff said at least two persons were involved in the slayings.

One of the victims was identified as James Donahee, 18, of El Paso, Tex. The others were not identified immediately pending notification of relatives. They had been at the Army Signal School at Ft. Gordon about five months, Gable said.

The murders occurred in a heavily wooded area about 20 miles from Augusta and Ft. Gordon, accessible only by a dirt road. The lake forms part of the South Carolina-Georgia boundary.

Nation's Governors Open Annual Meeting

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The nation's governors open their annual meeting here today, saying they hope to avoid speculation about scandals in the nation's capital while claiming they are doing a better job of meeting the problems of the Watergate era.

Washington's Republican Gov. Daniel J. Evans, this year's conference chairman, told a news conference Sunday that in areas of campaign reform and government ethics, "states have quite clearly taken national leadership."

"In state after state significant sunshine laws, and other similar laws on ethics, on campaign limitations, on lobbyist reporting, open government have taken place while there has not been similar action as dramatic at the national level."

The opening day's business sessions

Approximately 80 young men from all over the United States will load a bus named "the possum" traveling to Oregon where the bicycle excursion begins.

The Circleville teens will pedal their bicycles across mountain ranges, through valleys, deserts, salt flats, and monotonous long stretches of highway traveling through cities such as Denver, Salt Lake City, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Chillicothe and Washington, D. C. The trip terminates as the three travelers dip the front wheels of their bikes in the Atlantic Ocean at Rehoboth, Del.

Under the leadership of Christian athlete, Coach Bob Davenport, the young men do more than average 100 miles a day. During the 35 day-journey, they learn mental and physical discipline, team spirit and a great love for God and His beautiful creation. The young men learn dependence on each other and God for everything.

According to Coach Davenport, "You will be expected to be ready—ready to ride, sing, study, work, ready to make or break camp; ready to grab an opportunity to contribute to the team. This is not a vacation; it is a rugged athletic achievement."

Frazer traveled last summer with the wandering Wheels receiving a bronze medallion for successfully completing the bike-ride in 26 days.

Panel Turns To ITT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee turns its attention this week to the ITT antitrust settlement, confident there's plenty to look at despite the special prosecutor's announcement absolving corporate officials of wrongdoing in the case.

"Our inquiry is completely independent of that," said Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., when asked about the effect of the prosecutor's finding.

John Doar, chief counsel for the impeachment inquiry, said that, "unless you start with the premise that every allegation is true, I don't think it yanks the rug out from under us."

Meanwhile, a committee member, Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Calif., predicted Nixon would be impeached and tried in the Senate. Waldie appeared Sunday on the CBS program "Face the Nation," with fellow committee member Lawrence Hogan, R-Md.

Hogan did not agree with Waldie that Nixon would be impeached for obstruction of justice in the Watergate cover-up, but said that if impeachment does come "it will come in the areas related to Watergate."

On the West coast, six governors interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press" said evidence sought by the committee should be released by Nixon. The six, attending the National Governor's Conference in Seattle, were Democrats Jimmy Carter of Georgia, Daniel Walker of Illinois, Wendell Anderson of Minnesota and Wendell Ford of Kentucky, and Republicans Tom McCall of Oregon and Daniel J. Evans of Washington.

Carter and McCall also said failure of Nixon to give up the evidence should be ground for removing him from office. In the ITT phase of the impeachment inquiry, the committee is investigating the allegation that an antitrust suit against International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation was settled in return for a pledge of financial help toward the cost of conducting the 1972 Republican National Convention in San Diego. In addition, it is alleged that perjury may have been committed by several administration officials during the Senate hearings on the nomination of Richard Kleindienst as attorney general. Last Thursday, special prosecutor Leon Jaworski, in a letter to Rep. J. J. Pickle of Texas, ranking Democrat on the investigations subcommittee of the House Commerce Committee, said that part of the investigation relating to allegations of federal criminal offenses by ITT executives related to settlement of the antitrust cases "has failed to disclose the commission of any such violations"

"We were never pursuing that aspect," said Albert Jenner, minority counsel for the impeachment inquiry. Jenner indicated that the inquiry has focused primarily on whether President Nixon was aware of possible false statements by administration officials at the Kleindienst confirmation hearings.

Kleindienst pleaded guilty May 16 to a misdemeanor charge of refusing to answer fully and accurately questions from a Senate committee. Three members of the prosecutor's staff resigned in protest because they believed Kleindienst should have faced a more serious charge.

In a letter to James D. St. Clair, the President's chief Watergate lawyer, Doar asked for tapes of 20 conversations that took place during the Kleindienst confirmation hearings.

St. Clair has told the committee the President has agreed only to turn over a transcript of one conversation. That one was with Mitchell and H. R. Haldeman on April 4, 1972.

Doar had said in his letter that he sought the tapes to determine whether the President or his aides took part in or had knowledge of "a plan or course of action, if any, which was designed to or did withhold from the Senate Judiciary Committee during the course of said hearings evidence to which it was entitled or to keep from the committee facts relevant to its inquiry."

In other Watergate-related developments:

—Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said Nixon was frustrating the impeachment process by threatening to make it "nothing more than an empty gesture, subject to executive veto." His comments were contained in remarks to be delivered on the Senate floor today.

Carter and McCall also said failure of Nixon to give up the evidence should be ground for removing him from office. Flurry Of Primaries Set

The year's biggest flurry of primary elections hits eight states Tuesday when voters choose nominees to succeed retiring governors in California and New Mexico and a U.S. senator in Iowa.

Also at stake are nominations for senator and governor in South Dakota, a Senate seat in California, the governorship of Iowa and 76 U.S. House seats in the eight states. Forty-three of the House seats are in California.

Eighteen Democrats and six Republicans want to succeed GOP Gov. Ronald Reagan, who is stepping down after two terms and preparing for a possible White House bid in 1976.

Public opinion polls indicated the clear front-runners were Democrat Edmund G. Brown Jr., 36, son of the governor that Reagan defeated in 1966, and Republican Houston I. Flournoy, 44, California state controller. Brown is California secretary of state.

In New Mexico, six Democrats and four Republicans are bidding for nominations to succeed Democratic Gov. Bruce King, who cannot succeed himself.

Iowa Democrat Harold E. Hughes is vacating his U.S. Senate seat, abandoning politics to become a religious lay leader.

Democratic Rep. John C. Culver is unopposed for the nomination for Hughes' seat. State Sen. George Milligan and State Rep. David Stanely, who lost to Hughes six years ago, are in the GOP primary.

Republican Gov. Robert D. Ray of Iowa is unopposed in his party renomination bid. There are three Democratic candidates.

In South Dakota, Gov. Richard F. Kneip's bid for a third term is challenged in the Democratic primary by Lt. Gov. William Dougherty, his running mate in the past two campaigns.

Democratic Sen. George McGovern is unopposed for his party renomination, while three Republicans compete to battle him in the general election, including retired Air Force Col. Leo K. Thorsness, who spent six years in a North Vietnamese prison camp.

U.S. House nominations are at stake in New Jersey, Montana and Mississippi. In California, Sen. Alan Cranston faced only token opposition from two other Democrats. There were five Republicans in the race including state Sen. H. L. Richardson and Earl Brian, former health and welfare secretary under Reagan.

The California election could provide a test of potential reaction to Watergate and related political scandals.

Since 1969 Republican Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, 50, was considered the front-runner and apparent heir of Reagan's support for the gubernatorial nomination. But his support weakened and his campaign funds virtually dried up when he was indicted by a Watergate grand jury on three counts of lying to the Senate Judiciary Committee in 1972.

Californians also will decide a major political reform measure put on the ballot by petition campaign in reaction to Watergate.

Big Cost Overruns For New Weapons Comes Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — A pair of Wisconsin Democrats fired salvoes at military spending over the weekend, taking aim at billions of dollars in weapons cost overruns and military spending in Indochina.

Sen. William Proxmire released General Accounting Office figures Sunday showing cost overruns totaling $26.3 billion for the development of 55 new weapons systems.

And Rep. Les Aspin said estimates prepared by the Defense Intelligence Agency show that the United States has spent nearly 30 times as much in Indochina since 1966 as the Soviet Union and mainland China combined—$107.1 billion to $3.65 billion.

According to the figures released by Proxmire the weapons systems involved are now expected to cost some $134.2 billion. This compares with original estimates of $111.6 billion.

And, a spokesman said the quantity of many of the items has been reduced to save money. The original estimate on the smaller quantity would have been $107.9 billion for an overrun of $26.3 billion.

Proxmire said the costs of building the DD963 destroyer have risen from the original planning estimates of $1.8 billion to a current estimate of $3.1 billion, and per ship cost from $60 million to $102.6 million.

"That is an increase of more than 70 per cent and not a single ship has been completed," he said.

Other major cost overruns noted in the GAO report included $1.43 billion for the F15 fighter; $756 million for the Minuteman III missile; $417.9 million for the SAM-D missile; $394.1 million for the XM-1 tank and $349.9 million for the UTTAS helicopter.

Aspin, meanwhile, charged that the Indochina spending figures compiled by the Defense Intelligence Agency "put the lie" to administration claims that American aid to South Vietnam was meant only to counter Russian and Chinese assistance to the north.

And in a statement released Monday Aspin said that GAO officials have not been able to determine the extent of cost overruns in the Safeguard antiballistic-missile system.

He accused the Army of juggling its books to make it impossible to make such a determination and of violating its own rules on identifying the cause of cost overruns.

Aspin said a May 1969 planning estimate showed a projected cost of $4.185 billion for a two-site system. After the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, however, Congress limited the Army to one site, currently estimated to cost $5.403 billion. The Army says it never had an estimate for a one-site system.

Colson Enters Guilty Plea On Ellsberg

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former presidential aide Charles W. Colson pleaded guilty today to a charge that he led an attempt to influence the outcome of the Daniel Ellsberg trial in 1971.

Colson pleaded guilty to a one-count grand jury indictment accusing him of obstruction of justice.

Other charges against Colson related to the break-in at the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist were dropped in the surprise court development.

Indications were that charges against Colson in the Watergate cover-up also would be dropped.

The new indictment said Colson attempted to get the original Ellsberg case "tried in the newspapers."

Ellsberg, a former Pentagon analyst, had been accused of leaking the Pentagon Papers to the press.

But Ellsberg was freed in early 1973 when Judge Matthew Byrne found misconduct by the government in the case, citing wiretapping and the break-in at the office of Dr. Lewis Fielding.

The indictment to which Colson pleaded guilty said he devised and implemented "a scheme to defame and destroy the public image and credibility of Daniel Ellsberg and those engaged in the legal defense of Daniel Ellsberg...."

Appearing before U.S. District Judge Gerhard Gesell, Colson said "my motives and purpose were to neutralize Dr. Ellsberg as an antiwar speaker... It didn't matter to me that he was facing serious criminal charges."

Gesell set Colson's sentencing for June 21. The maximum penalty for the one-count indictment is five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Nation's Governors Open Annual Meeting

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The nation's governors open their annual meeting here today, saying they hope to avoid speculation about scandals in the nation's capital while claiming they are doing a better job of meeting the problems of the Watergate era.

Washington's Republican Gov. Daniel J. Evans, this year's conference chairman, told a news conference Sunday that in areas of campaign reform and government ethics, "states have quite clearly taken national leadership."

"In state after state significant sunshine laws, and other similar laws on ethics, on campaign limitations, on lobbyist reporting, open government have taken place while there has not been similar action as dramatic at the national level."

The opening day's business sessions

included Evans' "State of the States" speech, a roundtable discussion with key congressional leaders of both parties and a panel on health care. The health care seminar featured Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.; American Medical Association President Dr. Russell B. Roth; and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Caspar Weinberger.

All but four of the nation's governors are expected to attend the formal opening of the conference today. Govs. John Burns of Hawaii, Bob Ray of Iowa, Francis Sargent of Massachusetts and George Wallace of Alabama have said they would not attend.

On Sunday, the conference's executive committee approved a broad resolution, sponsored by Govs. William G. Milliken, R-Mich., and

Patrick J. Lucey, D-Wis., calling for reforms "at all levels of government."

The resolution, due for consideration by the full conference Wednesday, urges "loophole-free" campaign finance reforms in public campaign financing, strict ethics codes, wider disclosure of lobbying activities and greater openness in government.

Most of the questions at Evans' news conference and during an appearance of six governors on NBC's "Meet the Press" dealt with Watergate and President Nixon's refusal to supply additional evidence sought by the House impeachment probe and special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski. Three governors from each party said Nixon should supply the material sought by the House Judiciary Committee. Democrat Jimmy Carter of Georgia and Republican Tom McCall of Oregon said failure to do so would be grounds for removing Nixon from office.

"He should give them everything they want or step down as President," said McCall, the only Republican governor who wants Nixon to resign from office. "I personally believe the President is guilty, and I think that the release of evidence will prove it," Carter said.

Those who said they thought Nixon should provide the materials sought by the House panel were Evans, and Govs. Daniel Walker, D-Ill., Wendell R. Anderson, D-Minn., and Wendell H. Ford, D-Ky.

Evans was asked at the news conference if he could foresee a situation in which Nixon would be justified in balking at a Supreme Court order to supply Watergate evidence.

He said the question was "too speculative" but noted any court decision is composed of a verdict and a written opinion.

"The opinion itself may be highly qualified and as such might not clearly represent an impeachable offense if the President were to say 'No,'" said Evans, who is not a lawyer.

Disagreement emerged over the impact of Watergate on the mood of the country.

Carter, who heads the Democratic campaign drive for the November congressional and gubernatorial elections, said "Watergate is really an embarrassing thing for the American people."

"It's kind of like having an illegitimate child in the family. You know it's happened. You know who is responsible. But you don't want to talk about it much in public."

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market greeted the news of a Chicago bank's reduction of its prime lending rate with a modest rally today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 4.46 at 806.63, and gainers held a lead of better than 2 to 1 over losers on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was light, however.

The First National Bank of Chicago lowered its prime rate this morning from 11.75 to 11.60 per cent. Brokers said the news was welcomed on Wall Street, but it appeared many investors remained wary until they could see further signs that a turning point had been reached in interest rates.

Melville Shoe, the most active NYSE issue, was up 1/4 at 8 3/4 in trading that included a 96,900 share block at 8.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was mp .06 at 81.57.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market greeted the news of a Chicago bank's reduction of its prime lending rate with a modest rally today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 4.46 at 806.63, and gainers held a lead of better than 2 to 1 over losers on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was light, however.

The First National Bank of Chicago lowered its prime rate this morning from 11.75 to 11.60 per cent. Brokers said the news was welcomed on Wall Street, but it appeared many investors remained wary until they could see further signs that a turning point had been reached in interest rates.

Melville Shoe, the most active NYSE issue, was up 1/4 at 8 1/2 in trading that included a 96,900 share block at 8.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was mp .06 at 81.57.

The Amex volume leader was Syntex, down 1/4 at 44 1/4. A 26,300 share block was traded at 45.

The NYSE's noon composite index of some 1,500 common stocks was up .17 at 46.09.

Control Of Logan Elm May Return To County

Logan Elm State Park, may soon return to local control if members of the Pickaway County Historical Society and the County Commissioners can arrive at a pact for its maintenance.

The Park is currently owned and controlled by the Ohio Historical Society at the request of the former land owners. The local historical society can gain control but lacks maintenance funds.

On informal opinion rendered by the commissioners would be to up the historical society's annual appropriation $500 to $6500 to help defray part of the costs. An estimated $1000 is needed yearly.

If the land is returned to local control, the historical society will lease it and eventually obtain the deed.

Representatives from the Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen's Association revealed plans to construct a $30,000 clubhouse on land at the old Children's Home presently being leased from the commissioners.

Plans are somewhat bogged down by the unavailability of a longer than 10-year lease on the property and uncertainty as to what will become of it when the Children's Home building is razed.

Bids for demolition of the building were opened at noon.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Lovey-Dovey Hubby

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a very loving husband. That's the trouble. He's TOO loving. For example, this morning he drove the kids to school and came back thinking I'd drop everything and make the bedroom scene with him. He often waits around until all the kids are gone, then he starts getting lovey-dovey when I should be getting my housework done.

Will you please tell him that the time for romance is after all the kids are asleep?

Also, he always get ideas after bowling. Bowling wears me out, but for him it's an afrodeeshiak (or however you spell it). I wouldn't mind if I could sleep the next morning, but I have to get up to drive the car pool. Am I wrong to complain? After all, we're not newlyweds. We've been married for 17 years.

NO BRIDE

DEAR NO BRIDE: The ideal time for romance is when both parties are in the mood and have nothing else to do, but unfortunately that's not always possible. I say, shoot the ducks when they're flying-the housework will keep. And if the situation were reversed, I'd advise the husband to do the same.

DEAR ABBY: That answer you gave "Mad at My Husband" the gal whose husband objected to her wearing a dress with a plunging neckline-sounded like something out of the Dark Ages.

You said "Some husbands don't mind if their wives dress sexy, but if yours does-don't!"

Abby, you're dead wrong. A woman is entitled to dress any way she chooses, and no one, including her husband, has the right to dictate otherwise.

Would your answer have been the same if a man had written to say that his wife objected to the way HE dressed?

BEEN THERE

DEAR BEEN: You bet your sweet bippy! (More than one wife wrote to complain because her husband had started wearing his pants too tight. I advised her, "Tell your husband that if he wants to wear the pants in the family, he should wear 'em a little looser!"

DEAR ABBY: I am a happy-go-lucky 25-year-old guy who is still in shock by something that happened to me last week.

I went to a newsstand where they sell magazines and paperback books. I got interested in a magazine and started to read it. I was standing there maybe 30 or 40 minutes, reading, when the lady who works there came up and said, "I think you've been here long enough. Either buy that magazine or put it back and leave."

Abby, I was so embarrassed, I put the magazine back in the rack and left. A couple of people heard her, and I really felt cheap. Aren't those magazines put out for people to look at? I wasn't bothering anyone or making a disturbance. Did that lady have the right to tell me to leave?

RED FACE

DEAR RED: Yes, but she could have done it quietly and spared you the embarrassment. Leafing through a magazine to decide whether to buy it is one thing-reading it is something else. Magazines that have been read by half a dozen people are fairly shopworn and not easy to sell.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M.P.: Look at it this way. Hypertension is the price you pay for being a race horse instead of a cow.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box 69700, L.A., CALIF. 90069. Enclose stamped, self addressed envelope, please.

U.S. Food Prices Show May Jump

Greenery Covers Austrian Capital

VIENNA (AP) — Fully half of the Austrian capital is covered with trees and greenery, including the fabled Vienna Woods. Vienna's verdure is among the citizens' most highly valued possessions.

The mayor of Vienna, Leopold Gratz, is an ecological activist who has demonstrated his determination to protect and enrich the green belts in and around the Austrian capital.

1, 1973, and has rechecked at the start of each succeeding month. The figures in the latest survey reflected the April 30 end of price controls and the continuing spiral in commodities prices on the world market.

The latest AP check showed that during May the marketbasket total went up in eight cities, rising an average of 4 per cent, and declined in five. It was the reverse of the situation in April when the bill went down in eight cities and up in five. During March, the marketbasket total went down in nine cities.

The bill at the end of May was higher than on March 1, 1973, in every city. Increases averaged 15 per cent and ranged from 5 per cent in Seattle to 23 per cent in Boston.

Eggs were about the only real bargain around. In many cities, the current price was lower than the March 1, 1973, level. The decline has been a steady one, caused by increased supplies of eggs. The average price of a dozen, medium white eggs in the latest survey was 54 cents, down 11 per cent from the figure one month ago and down 13 per cent from the cost on March 1, 1973.

In a less encouraging vein, however, detergent, which remained fairly steady in earlier months, shot up in nine cities during May, rising an average of 8 per cent.

Sugar which started rising last year and has climbed ever since went up again in 10 cities during May and stayed unchanged in three. The average price was $1.38, up 12 per cent from the $1.23 figure at the end of April and up 89 per cent the 73-cent figure on March 1, 1973.

The cities in the AP survey were: Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Ga., Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, R.I., Salt Lake City and Seattle.

The items on the checklist were: chopped chuck, pork chops, paper towels, frozen orange juice, coffee, butter, eggs, peanut butter, detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, cookies, milk, all-beef frankfurters and granulated sugar.

Riding Airbus

With patterns of large metropolitan regions filling in rapidly on both coasts and in mid-continent, transportation congestion within the United States seems destined to become much worse before it gets better.

The question most frequently heard is: How is it going to get better unless a major transportation revolution begins in the near future? There are many experts who appear to be convinced it is already too late to avoid at least a period of transportation chaos. Any large-scale mass transit systems put on the drawing boards today probably would take until 1985 for completion.

Overlooking the pessimists for a moment, just what are the plans for mass metropolitan transportation?

Where, after all, is space still relatively wide open? Not on the ground. In the air.

Thus, it is to a versatile "airbus"—a vehicle capable of carrying large numbers of passengers and taking off and landing in very small spaces—that man ultimately must turn to remove himself from the congestion he has created on the ground.

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

OMAHA, Neb. — Fellow who has been in charge of protecting you, your family and property night and day since May 1, 1972, turns in his uniform pretty soon. Not much chance you ever met him, even though he was born in Brooklyn. But his record, characteristics, instincts, personality, boiling level, etc., in all probability fill large dossiers in Moscow, Peking, London, Paris, Rome, Bonn, Brussels, East Berlin, Ankara, Athens, Warsaw, Budapest, Bucharest, Tokyo, Saigon, Hanoi, the Office of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the CIA and its enemy and friendly counterparts.

His name is John Charles Meyer. He is a 4-star Air Force general in charge of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) headquartered at nearby Offutt Air Force Base.

The mission of SAC is to deter attacks of the United States and our farflung allies.

People usually don't get around to saying thanks to Gen. Meyer for his command's "round-the-clock" vigilances. But tonight the resident and adjacent members of the National Conference of Christians and Jews will do so at the Omaha Hilton. The general hangs up his hat and retires his row of ribbons August 1.

His contemporaries and perhaps his enemies called Meyer "J.C." during World War II, and at times it didn't seem like an overstatement. He was an infallible figure at the controls of his P-51. He was credited with 37½ victories, the last two scored under hardly finite circumstances on January 1, 1945. It was in the course of the Battle of the Bulge, and Goering's Luftwaffe was as much a part of this last-ditch offense as was the German army.

The Messerschmitts and the FW's creamed 156 allied aircraft in a series of desperate sweeps over airdromes in France, Holland and Belgium. When they struck Asch, Belgium, without warning, of course, Meyer, by then deputy commander of the 352nd Group, raced for his fighter, got its engine started, and took off into the teeth of the incoming sweep. He was forced to fly through his own flak. His fighter's wing was slashed by anti-aircraft fire, but he knocked down two of the incoming Luftwaffe fighters and was on the tail of a third when he ran out of ammunition and had to limp home.

Those two were his last World War II victories. Shortly thereafter, his jeep turned over while churning over a rutty road and he was hurt badly enough to miss action during the last months of the war.

There is no telling how many more he would have scored except for what his fellow superego, Gabby Gabreski, calls "that friendly jeep." Gabby continues, "How about something like that happening to a guy who had 200 missions? He was the greatest fighter pilot who ever lived." (Five years and more later, Meyer engaged in the first all-jet dogfight over Korea, flew 30 more missions in his F-86, and scored two triumphs over North Korean MIG-15s.)

Though not a West Point graduate (he was Dartmouth), Meyer rose rapidly in the military. He held deputy command positions in both SAC and the Tactical Air Command during the early stages of the war in Vietnam, was vice chief of staff of the Air Force and finally, at a critical time, commander-in-chief of SAC.

SAC, in a large sense, permits President Nixon and Henry Kissinger to create detentes. SAC is the silent voice that lends authority to what American politicians and planners state in the name of peace and world order. SAC tempers the voice (once so threatening) of the Kremlin and the Peoples Republic of China, not to mention Albania and Cuba. SAC is an insurance policy that guarantees you'll wake up tomorrow as much more than a radioactive cinder.

Meyer and SAC's more than 160,000 military and civilian people attend to these awesome facts of life and death. SAC's "enforcers," if that's the word, are 1,000 Minutemen and 54 Titan II intercontinental ballistic missiles buried in puncture-proof silos, 350 aging but still highly potent B-52s, 70 long-range, swept-wing FB-111s, more than 600 jet tankers, exotic reconnaissance aircraft such as the Mach 3-SR-71, airborne command posts (4-engine jets with a general aboard) that could take over if SAC headquarters, a hard-to-believe global command post buried in the Nebraska soil, was ever destroyed, and breathtaking electronic gear. SAC's missiles, each tended by two Air Force officers who lived in underground quarters hard by their ICBMs and spend their spare time studying for masters degrees, could respond to an enemy attack within a couple of minutes and the Titan IIs about as swiftly. More than half the Minutemen are equipped with MIRV (Multiple Independently Targeted Reentry Vehicle) warheads. Somewhere out in space, each war-head could fly down on the enemy capital for which it has been programmed. Targets can now be changed, depending on the political times, as easily as dialing a telephone number.

In short, SAC is the most appallingly apparent peace-keeper in the history of arms. Its weapons could overkill every would-be enemy and the enemy's peoples four or five times. Its fantastic reaction time, and punch, has been bolstered by the development of the lethal Short Range Attack Missile (SRAM), an air-to-ground knockout punch which will gain even greater importance when it is carried by the upcoming successor of the ancient B-52, the supersonic swing-wing B-1.

Gen. Meyer entered the Army Air Force in 1940 for an odd reason. He was a runner in his uncle's Wall Street bank. He spent most of his working days on his feet, standing up on the subway coming to work, standing up (or running) at work, standing up at lunch at some financial-area quick-and-dirty, and standing up on the homebound subway.

Once he found a seat, but at the next stop a pregnant lady got on the car and he gallantly stood up to give his seat to her. Instead, some slob who weighed twice as much as Meyer pounced on it. Meyer pulled him up and took a punch at him. The next thing he remembers was that he was lying on the platform of the next subway stop. He had been clobbered by his gallantry.

So he decided to enlist in the Army Air Force. He went to Flushing (N.Y.) Airport and paid five bucks for his first plane ride. Then he journeyed to Mitchell Field, Long Island. Two doors confronted him. One was marked "Ground Crews," meaning mechanics. The other was marked, "Air Cadets." He entered that one and signed up. The rest is Air Force history.

Gen. Meyer has already chosen his post-service career. He will be an Omaha banker. A seated one.

NEW YORK (AP) — Economic instability is producing some odd consequences in the financial markets. Cash, for instance, is considered by many to be the best investment, all things considered.

The main ingredient of that term "all things" is doubt—doubt about the likelihood of economic equilibrium returning soon, doubt about the chances of conventional investment outlets growing more attractive.

Stockholders of Slater, Walker Securities Ltd., a London-based conglomerate, were growing increasingly restless as they saw the firm's assets sold off for cash.

Financial trouble? No. As the chairman explained at the company's annual meeting, the world's economy is in a critical condition. It is becoming increasingly difficult to invest in industry because of stock market slumps and socialism.

Cash, he told relieved shareholders, is "high yielding, relatively secure and easy to manage."

American money managers also seem attracted to cash. Mutual funds are organized to invest mainly in corporate shares. But many mutual funds are keeping a large portion of their money in cash instead of stocks.

Ironically, this conservative posture may be one of the big reasons why the stock market fails to move ahead. If money remains on the sidelines it is of no use to the stock market.

While the cash position of mutual funds is now approaching 10 per cent of assets, a very high figure, the cash position of bank trust departments may be even higher. They too are reluctant to commit their cash.

While investor indecency has a history of many months, a new factor conceivably could be introduced that also would keep money from being invested in productive industry. It's an old element: Gold.

The U.S. Senate last week voted to permit Americans to own gold beginning Sept. 1. The gold market, which has been quieting down in recent weeks, grew excited again.

Based on the manner in which Americans have been collecting antiques and silver and plates and art, which they feel have intrinsic as well as paper value, they would also hoard gold if they were permitted to get their hands on it. They have been forbidden to do so since 1933. Informed guesses now suggest the House will balk again at granting permission.

Nixon Returns To White House
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has returned to the White House after spending the weekend at his Camp David, Md., retreat with his wife and friend C.G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

A spokesman said Nixon worked in his Aspen Lodge study on "foreign policy matters," presumably his planned trips to the Middle East and Russia later this month.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson described American military might as awesome, saying it exceeded the combined might of all the nations in world history.

Five years ago: President Nixon denounced what he called the self-righteous moral arrogance of college extremists but urged the nation to heed the demands of the young for honesty in American life.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have had two kidney stone attacks. Does this mean that I can anticipate more attacks? The pain is so bad that I live in constant dread that it will happen again.

Mr. T.H., Calif.

Dear Mr. H.:

Anyone who has ever experienced an attack of kidney stones can appreciate the intensity of that pain. Doctors who treat such conditions feel, too, that there are few less distressing types of pain.

The fact that you have had two attacks of stones in the kidney or in the ureters does not mean that you will have a chronic susceptibility to stone formation.

It does, however, mean that the basic cause for the formation of the stones must be eliminated if you are to be free of concern.

Infections, inflammation and irritation are responsible for the deposit of calcium, which is the beginning of a stone.

Some stones contain uric acid and are related to a gouty tendency. This can be controlled by diet and drugs. There are now many extensive tests by which the entire urinary tract can be studied. Special dyes, X-rays, studies of the blood and the urine can help pinpoint the exact reason for stone formation.

Only in this way can you be freed from anxiety.

My wife says she has a "nervous stomach." Is there such a condition?
Mr. E.B.L., Ohio

Dear Mr. L.:

The term is often used by the laity as a description of a wide variety of intestinal complaints.

It does not have any medical significance. The stomach is said to be a very sympathetic neighbor, and quickly reacts to conditions in nearby organs. This might include disorders of the intestines, the liver or the gall bladder.

"Nervous stomach" may therefore have many physical and emotional causes.

The only way to be relieved, of course, is to carefully evaluate the nature of the complaint and follow through with the many available studies.

Full Of Love

By JIM BISHOP

Happiness is a woman named Kelly. This is our thirteenth wedding anniversary, and it is awkward to explain that we have daughters aged 36, 30, 21 and 19. These are not my children and, in a separate sense, hers. They are ours. Kelly is only nine years older than Virginia Lee, but the Mother's Day card is full of love.

That's what we have instead of brains — love. It runs through the family like freckles. In times of trouble, we cling tightly. At other times, we disagree and wave our arms and shout. That, too, is one of the tiles in a huge flowery mosaic.

A good marriage is a sad thing. It should endure forever, but it won't. A day must come when the air is still and the birds are quiet. By all the actuarial laws, it will happen to me first because I am much older than Kelly.

When it happens, I know I will feel a deep regret because love is possessive and greedy. And yet, if it ends today, I am a lucky character, far ahead of the game. I will match my 13 against anybody's 50.

If you don't know Kelly, I think you would admire her. She is an effortless lady. She is a fairly tall blonde with wavy hair and a bun on her neck. The eyes are the color of the summer sky. She looks like a profile on a Greek coin.

She had an earlier marriage. It limped for a long while and, from what I understand, no one was at fault. Some people marry before they mature. I had a first marriage, too; she died suddenly when I was on a ship bound home from Europe. That was 17 years ago. Like last week.

I could never understand why the four girls loved me. My innate character is unforgiving of mistakes. All of them grew up under a disciplinarian. Once, when I punished Karen, I said, "Okay girls. I'm tired of the tears. I'll change. I'll be the soft touch around the house."

They exchanged looks of horror. "No!" They said. "Don't change. Whatever you do, don't change." I have been an active participant in every part of their lives. Very few things escaped the old man's notice. And — what is the worse — I have an opinion on everything from makeup to boys.

Thirteen years have gone by, and so have the Mary Janes and the little starched frocks. Kelly looks precisely the same to me. She is ageless and wise, and she has learned a lot about the writing of books. She even takes notes at interviews.

I never go anywhere without her. Nor would I. She fears flying, but she has flown around the world with me twice. She can't swim and she has served as first mate on cabin cruisers we have owned.

We are a team, all the way. And yet, we must be growing older and more sedentary, because all the girls are now women. Virginia Lee has eight children, but she makes time for long chats with her mother.

Gayle assists at autopsies. When I had a spinal operation, she came to my room in her bilious green uniform and said, "When I heard that you were not coming to my department, I thought I'd come up and visit yours."

Karen studies hard at Florida Atlantic University to teach who she calls "exceptional" children, and who I call retarded. Kathi is at Broward Community College majoring in family psychology. Someday she hopes to mend warped marriages without pain.

None of them need us. The noise around the house diminishes. But we have each other in a sort of pink paradise. I know I'm the lucky one. She insists she's the luckiest of women. One of us is mistaken.

We like music; gin rummy; a mad game called Yatzee; most of all, we like couples around the house to sit to, sup, to sip. Kelly bakes beans, carves a ham, makes cole slaw and celery stuffed with blue cheese. The conversation moves along many tangents — most of them interesting.

She allocates time for housework, time for meeting girl friends for shopping. I hack out each day so that there is sufficient time to think out a newspaper column which is either edifying, amusing or about family life. In the afternoon, I play golf and walk in the sun. After dinner, I do a little work on the next book — would you believe the 19th? When I die, people are going to say, "You know what that man did? He wrote three feet of books."

I wish I could tell you a good solid fact in Kelly, because it would make her so much more human. We need faults for contrast. Her father was a physician, Dr. James Kelly of Jersey City, N.J. Unconsciously, she tries to imitate him. She has a pill or a vitamin for everything. My breakfast looks like a bowl of confetti.

Great years, these 13. Away way back before I met her, I can remember some harsh, painful ones. I'm forever grateful that the best was saved for last...

They have been forbidden to do so since 1933. Informed guesses now suggest the House will balk again at granting permission.

Nixon Returns To White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has returned to the White House after spending the weekend at his Camp David, Md., retreat with his wife and friend C.G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

A spokesman said Nixon worked in his Aspen Lodge study on "foreign policy matters," presumably his planned trips to the Middle East and Russia later this month.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, June 3, the 154th day of 1974. There are 211 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date —

In 1621, the Dutch West India Company received a charter for New Netherlands — now New York.

In 1808, Confederate President Jefferson Davis was born in what is now Todd County, Ky.

In 1937, the Duke of Windsor married Wallis Warfield Simpson of Baltimore, Md., in France.

In 1942, in World War II, Japanese warplanes raided Dutch Harbor, Alaska.

In 1962, 30 members of an Atlanta, Ga., art group were killed in an airliner crash at Paris, France.

In 1966, a surveyor one spacecraft was relaying back pictures of the Lunar surface after making America's first soft landing on the moon.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson described American military might as awesome, saying it exceeded the combined might of all the nations in world history.

Five years ago: President Nixon denounced what he called the self-righteous moral arrogance of college extremists but urged the nation to heed the demands of the young for honesty in American life.

One year ago: A Soviet supersonic airliner crashed during an international air show near Paris, killing the six crewmen and seven French villagers.

Today's birthdays: Actor Tony Curtis is 49 years old. Poet Allen Ginsberg is 48.

Thought for today: A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country, and in his own house — the Bible.

Pay raises were granted by Circleville City Council for fire and police department personnel. The chiefs of both departments earned $25 for a month, or $3600 a year, while salaries of the rank-and-file members of the both departments was increased $10 a month to $3300.

The city fathers also agreed to place a fire protection levy for the municipality before the voters. The 1 mill tax for three years was expected to result in $15,000 a year.

Factory Outlet on Court St. was having a dollar days sale which featured two pairs of nylons, shirts, blouses, skirts, five pairs of socks, and four 20 by 40 Turkish towels for $1.

Plans for a ground observer tower to be erected on top of the National Guard Armory on E. Franklin St. were revealed by the Pickaway County Civil Defense. The small enclosed wooden structure was similar to those used across the country for plane spotting purposes.

Circleville High School's summer baseball team was set to play its first game of the Central Ohio High School Summer League season against St. Charles, the 1954 district champs. The schedule included 20 games, all played on Saturdays and Mondays.

Trustees of Forest Cemetery passed a resolution that all tree and shrubbery planting must be under the supervision and approval of the cemetery superintendent. A nominal charge was made for all such plantings.

"Go home, Robert. The first thing you have to learn is not to make house calls."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have had two kidney stone attacks. Does this mean that I can anticipate more attacks? The pain is so bad that I live in constant dread that it will happen again.

Mr. T.H., Calif.

Dear Mr. H.:

Anyone who has ever experienced an attack of kidney stones can appreciate the intensity of that pain. Doctors who treat such conditions feel, too, that there are few less distressing types of pain.

The fact that you have had two attacks of stones in the kidney or in the ureters does not mean that you will have a chronic susceptibility to stone formation.

It does, however, mean that the basic cause for the formation of the stones must be eliminated if you are to be free of concern.

Infections, inflammation and irritation are responsible for the deposit of calcium, which is the beginning of a stone.

Some stones contain uric acid and are related to a gouty tendency. This can be controlled by diet and drugs. There are now many extensive tests by which the entire urinary tract can be studied. Special dyes, X-rays, studies of the blood and the urine can help pinpoint the exact reason for stone formation.

Only in this way can you be freed from anxiety.

My wife says she has a "nervous stomach." Is there such a condition? Mr. E.B.L., Ohio

Dear Mr. L.:

The term is often used by the laity as a description of a wide variety of intestinal complaints.

It does not have any medical significance. The stomach is said to be a very sympathetic neighbor, and quickly reacts to conditions in nearby organs. This might include disorders of the intestines, the liver or the gall bladder.

"Nervous stomach" may therefore have many physical and emotional causes.

The only way to be relieved, of course, is to carefully evaluate the nature of the complaint and follow through with the many available studies.

Full Of Love

By JIM BISHOP

Happiness is a woman named Kelly. This is our thirteenth wedding anniversary, and it is awkward to explain that we have daughters aged 36, 30, 21 and 19. These are not my children and, in a separate sense, hers. They are ours. Kelly is only nine years older than Virginia Lee, but the Mother's Day card is full of love.

That's what we have instead of brains — love. It runs through the family like freckles. In times of trouble, we cling tightly. At other times, we disagree and wave our arms and shout. That, too, is one of the tiles in a huge flowery mosaic.

A good marriage is a sad thing. It should endure forever, but it won't. A day must come when the air is still and the birds are quiet. By all the actuarial laws, it will happen to me first because I am much older than Kelly.

When it happens, I know I will feel a deep regret because love is possessive and greedy. And yet, if it ends today, I am a lucky character, far ahead of the game. I will match my 13 against anybody's 50.

If you don't know Kelly, I think you would admire her. She is an effortless lady. She is a fairly tall blonde with wavy hair and a bun on her neck. The eyes are the color of the summer sky. She looks like a profile on a Greek coin.

She had an earlier marriage. It limped for a long while and, from what I understand, no one was at fault. Some people marry before they mature. I had a first marriage, too; she died suddenly when I was on a ship bound home from Europe. That was 17 years ago. Like last week.

I could never understand why the four girls loved me. My innate character is unforgiving of mistakes. All of them grew up under a disciplinarian. Once, when I punished Karen, I said, "Okay girls. I'm tired of the tears. I'll change. I'll be the soft touch around the house."

They exchanged looks of horror. "No!" They said. "Don't change. Whatever you do, don't change." I have been an active participant in every part of their lives. Very few things escaped the old man's notice. And — what is the worse — I have an opinion on everything from makeup to boys.

Thirteen years have gone by, and so have the Mary Janes and the little starched frocks. Kelly looks precisely the same to me. She is ageless and wise, and she has learned a lot about the writing of books. She even takes notes at interviews.

I never go anywhere without her. Nor would I. She fears flying, but she has flown around the world with me twice. She can't swim and she has served as first mate on cabin cruisers we have owned.

We are a team, all the way. And yet, we must be growing older and more sedentary, because all the girls are now women. Virginia Lee has eight children, but she makes time for long chats with her mother.

Gayle assists at autopsies. When I had a spinal operation, she came to my room in her bilious green uniform and said, "When I heard that you were not coming to my department, I thought I'd come up and visit yours."

Karen studies hard at Florida Atlantic University to teach who she calls "exceptional" children, and who I call retarded. Kathi is at Broward Community College majoring in family psychology. Someday she hopes to mend warped marriages without pain.

None of them need us. The noise around the house diminishes. But we have each other in a sort of pink paradise. I know I'm the lucky one. She insists she's the luckiest of women. One of us is mistaken.

We like music; gin rummy; a mad game called Yatzee; most of all we like couples around the house to sit, to sup, to sip. Kelly bakes beans, carves a ham, makes cole slaw and celery stuffed with blue cheese. The conversation moves along many tangents — most of them interesting.

She allocates time for housework, time for meeting girl friends for shopping. I hack out each day so that there is sufficient time to think out a newspaper column which is either edifying, amusing or about family life. In the afternoon, I play golf and walk in the sun. After dinner, I do a little work on the next book — would you believe the 19th? When I die, people are going to say, "You know what that man did? He wrote three feet of books."

I wish I could tell you a good solid fact in Kelly, because it would make her so much more human. We need faults for contrast. Her father was a physician, Dr. James Kelly of Jersey City, N.J. Unconsciously, she tries to imitate him. She has a pill or a vitamin for everything. My breakfast looks like a bowl of confetti.

Great years, these 13. Away way back before I met her, I can remember some harsh, painful ones. I'm forever grateful that the best was saved for last...

Staff Sergeant Randy Sutton, the local Air Force representative, was recently named the top Air Force recruiter in southeastern Ohio for the month of April.

RANDY SUTTON

This was the fifth consecutive month that Sergeant Sutton has received this honor. In April he once again met or surpassed every goal he was given. He was particularly effective in recruiting non prior service men as he attained 144 per cent production in this program.

A majority of these men were enlisted in the Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program and will not depart for active duty until later this year.

Parliament Sets Debate On Ireland

LONDON (AP) — The British Parliament interrupted its spring vacation today for an emergency debate on the future of Northern Ireland amid growing sentiment for British withdrawal from the province after nearly five years of bloodshed.

More than 1,000 persons have died in the war between Northern Ireland's Protestant majority and the Roman Catholic community, outnumbered two to one. The dead include more than 200 British soldiers who tried to restore peace.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson called Parliament back into session after a coalition of moderate Protestants and Catholics attempting to govern Northern Ireland was forced to resign. The British government resumed direct rule of the province after a 15-day general strike led by militant Protestants opposed to the sharing of power with the Catholics.

Although there was considerable belief in British political circles before the strike that the moderates in Northern Ireland eventually would win out, many of Wilson's Laborites, some Conservatives and a number of Liberals now reportedly favor setting a date for Britain to get out of Northern Ireland.

The tabloid Daily Mirror, which has a national circulation of more than 4 million, devoted its entire front page today to what it called Britain's gravest crisis since the British-French invasion of Suez in 1956 and to a decision the country must face: Pulling out its troops and abandoning sovereignty over the province.

Fatal British Blast Being Investigated

FLIXBOROUGH, England (AP) — The British government today ordered a major inquiry into the Nypro chemical plant explosion that killed 29 persons and injured 105, according to latest official reports.

All the reported dead were workers at the factory in rural eastern England, but only eight bodies had been recovered by Sunday night because fires still raged over more than 20 acres of the plant site.

Damage from the explosion Saturday exceeded $140 million. The chemical plant and about 100 homes in nearby villages were ruined—their roofs blown off, windows and walls shattered.

Announcing the government inquiry, Environment Undersecretary Gordon Oakes said: "Surely dangerous processes and homes must be kept well apart." Leading newspapers speculated that government controls over chemical plants are inadequate, and one paper said the government's chief inspector of factories, Brian Harvey, told it scientists are creating technologies they do not understand fully.

Flixborough, a village of 310 persons 150 miles north of London, was declared a disaster area. The Rev. Ken O'Riordan, a Roman Catholic priest, walked the blackened streets sobbing: "This is terrible, terrible. There is nothing I can do but pray."

At the height of the blaze Saturday night, an estimated 20,000 persons living in the surrounding Lincolnshire villages and fields were evacuated to shelters set up in schools and churches because of poisonous fumes. Housewives wept as they returned to their ruined or damaged homes Sunday.

The jobs of 30,000 nylon workers in northeast England were jeopardized by the Flixborough explosion and fire. Nypro was Britain's only factory producing caprolactum, used to strengthen nylon for heavy industrial use. The plant was owned by British and Dutch interests.

The cause of the blast is still not known, but authorities said they believed it to be accidental.

Fair Skies Cover U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hail and high winds have battered parts of northwestern Texas, but most of the nation has clear skies and warm weather today.

Fair skies are reported over the Mississippi Valley, Great Lakes, Southwest, lower Ohio Valley, Tennessee Valley, eastern Texas and much of the Rockies and western plains.

Thundershowers and thunderstorms continue, however, over the southern Atlantic coastal states and much of the plains and Texas. Northwestern Texas had 1¼ inches of hail Sunday, accompanied by a few tornadoes and winds gusting up to 60 miles per hour.

A cold front from western Montana to northern California blanketed the area with clouds. This cloudiness held temperatures along the Pacific coast to cooler readings than those reported inland.

Westfall Teacher Retires

A face that has been familiar in the Westfall School District for many years will not appear in the classrooms next year. The faculty and administration and students as well will miss seeing Mrs. Vica Dillon who has retired from teaching after serving the Westfall District for 27 years.

Mrs. Dillon, a Circleville resident, first came to the county as principal at Madison Township School where she served for two years. In 1947, she went to the Jackson Elementary in the Westfall District and from there to the junior high. Prior to beginning her 29 years in Pickaway County, she taught in West Virginia.

She attended Rio Grande College and received her degree from Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va. Upon retirement from the teaching profession, Mrs. Dillon plans to move to Denver, Col.

This past year, the retiring teacher taught junior high social studies and for several years prior to that she taught English.

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

Sealed bids for the purchase of $1,670,000 bonds of the Board of Education of the Westfall Local School District (herein referred to as the issuer) in the Counties of Pickaway and Madison, Ohio, will be received by the undersigned at his office in the High School Building located on State Route 56 approximately twelve miles west of Circleville, Ohio, until 10 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, on the 26th day of June, 1974, at which time the bids will be opened and read publicly. Bids for the bonds, which were authorized by legislation enacted on May 28, 1974, shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for School Improvement Bonds", and each bid shall be made only for all or none of such bonds. Bids to be delivered by mail should be sent to the undersigned at R.F.D. 1, Williamsport, Ohio 43154.

It is contemplated that the bond issuing authority will meet at 7:30 o'clock, p.m., on the 26th day of June, 1974, to consider the bids and make an award.

The bonds will be dated the first day of July, 1974, will be in the denomination of $5,000 each, and will draw interest payable semiannually on the first days of June and December of each year, beginning June 1, 1975, at the rate of six and one-quarter per centum (6 1/4 per cent) per annum. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different single rate of interest, but not in excess of eight per centum (8 per cent) per annum, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-eighth of one percent or a multiple thereof. Split rate bids and bids with supplemental coupons will not be considered.

The bonds mature as follows: $80,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1975 to 1978, both inclusive; and $75,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1979 to 1996, both inclusive.

The bonds are issued for the purpose of constructing and equipping a new middle school building and improving the site thereof.

The bonds are payable, without deduction for the services of the issuer's paying agent, at the legal depository of the issuer, presently the Williamsport Branch Office of The First National Bank of Circleville, Circleville, Ohio, and, unless paid from other sources, are payable from unlimited taxes.

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Segre, Sanders & Dempsey, whose approving opinion will be furnished at the cost of the successful bidder and will be printed on the bonds. The issuer will pay the cost of printing the bonds. A complete transcript of proceedings will be furnished by the issuer, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

CUSIP numbers will be printed on the bonds if available and requested by the successful bidder. Any delay, error or omission with respect thereto shall not constitute cause for the successful bidder to refuse to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds. Any CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of the numbers shall be the responsibility of the successful bidder.

The bids will promptly be considered, and the bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom any premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of the highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check or certified check payable to the issuer or any combination thereof, aggregating one percent of the par amount of the bonds, upon the condition that, if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for the bonds shall file its own cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the issuer unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.

In the event that, prior to their delivery, the interest on the bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal income taxes, or any act of Congress should provide that the interest income on the bonds shall be taxable at a future date for Federal income tax purposes, whether directly or indirectly, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bid security shall be returned without interest.

The bonds shall be delivered for payment within the State of Ohio to the successful bidder or to a bank designated by the successful bidder without charge. If delivered at a place outside of the State of Ohio, the successful bidder shall pay the expense of delivery at that place. The expense of delivery within the State of Ohio shall not be considered in determining the highest bid.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery, the issuer shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the fifth business day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the place of delivery. However, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the issuer or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default of any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter, and so long as no such tender by the issuer shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase. Any such right shall be exercised by delivering written notice of such cancellation to the undersigned or to the office of the undersigned during business hours. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

Fatal British Blast Being Investigated

FLIXBOROUGH, England (AP) — The British government today ordered a major inquiry into the Nypro chemical plant explosion that killed 29 persons and injured 105, according to latest official reports.

All the reported dead were workers at the factory in rural eastern England, but only eight bodies had been recovered by Sunday night because fires still raged over more than 20 acres of the plant site.

Damage from the explosion Saturday exceeded $140 million. The chemical plant and about 100 homes in nearby villages were ruined—their roofs blown off, windows and walls shattered.

Announcing the government inquiry, Environment Undersecretary Gordon Oakes said: "Surely dangerous processes and homes must be kept well apart." Leading newspapers speculated that government controls over chemical plants are inadequate, and one paper said the government's chief inspector of factories, Brian Harvey, told it scientists are creating technologies they do not understand fully.

Flixborough, a village of 310 persons 150 miles north of London, was declared a disaster area. The Rev. Ken O'Riordan, a Roman Catholic priest, walked the blackened streets sobbing: "This is terrible, terrible. There is nothing I can do but pray."

At the height of the blaze Saturday night, an estimated 20,000 persons living in the surrounding Lincolnshire villages and fields were evacuated to shelters set up in schools and churches because of poisonous fumes. Housewives wept as they returned to their ruined or damaged homes Sunday.

The jobs of 30,000 nylon workers in northeast England were jeopardized by the Flixborough explosion and fire. Nypro was Britain's only factory producing caprolactum, used to strengthen nylon for heavy industrial use. The plant was owned by British and Dutch interests.

The cause of the blast is still not known, but authorities said they believed it to be accidental.

Fair Skies Cover U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hail and high winds have battered parts of northwestern Texas, but most of the nation has clear skies and warm weather today.

Fair skies are reported over the Mississippi Valley, Great Lakes, Southwest, lower Ohio Valley, Tennessee Valley, eastern Texas and much of the Rockies and western plains.

Thundershowers and thunderstorms continue, however, over the southern Atlantic coastal states and much of the plains and Texas. Northwestern Texas had 1 3/4 inches of hail Sunday, accompanied by a few tornadoes and winds gusting up to 60 miles per hour.

A cold front from western Montana to northern California blanketed the area with clouds. This cloudiness held temperatures along the Pacific coast to cooler readings than those reported inland.

Westfall Teacher Retires

A face that has been familiar in the Westfall School District for many years will not appear in the classrooms next year. The faculty and administration and students as well will miss seeing Mrs. Vica Dillon who has retired from teaching after serving the Westfall District for 27 years.

Mrs. Dillon, a Circleville resident, first came to the county as principal at Madison Township School where she served for two years. In 1947, she went to the Jackson Elementary in the Westfall District and from there to the junior high. Prior to beginning her 29 years in Pickaway County, she taught in West Virginia.

She attended Rio Grande College and received her degree from Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va. Upon retirement from the teaching profession, Mrs. Dillon plans to move to Denver, Col.

This past year, the retiring teacher taught junior high social studies and for several years prior to that she taught English.

Meshel Becomes Oil Watchdog

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In the past few months Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, has taken on the job of oil company watchdog as gasoline prices went up and gasoline shortages grew less.

Since January he has introduced three measures aimed at oil company operations. He indicates more may be in the mill.

The latest Meshel bill would require all gasoline service stations to post their prices in a conspicuous place in lettering at least six inches high.

Meshel said he was trying to help the consumer.

"In these days when consumers feel the need to shop around for gas it is difficult to do so unless price signs are adequately posted so they can be read from the street," Meshel said.

"It is a waste of everyone's time for customers to wait in long lines for gas only to find upon getting to the pumps that the prices are inordinately out of line."

Meshel's bill also requires large signs telling whether a station is open or closed.

Meshel also has two resolutions pending in the Senate—one requesting a freeze in the prices of gasoline and diesel fuel for a year and the other asking for a similar freeze on oil and

Man Charged With Possession Of Explosives

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Exploding grenades in a wooded area near here led police and U.S. Treasury agents Friday to an "arsenal" of grenades, ammunition, blasting caps and 25 pounds of TNT, authorities said.

A 45-year-old Army Reserve sergeant, Lester Bortmas of Youngstown, was arrested and charged with illegal possession of firearms, police said. He was released on $10,000 bond.

A visiting Youngstown policeman heard the grenades and alerted Austintown authorities, police said. Police said they found a 14-year-old youth with a sack of grenades, and he led them to Bortmas.

Police say the youth got the grenades from a shack in the woods. The shack also contained 150 booby trap simulators, more than 75,000 rounds of ammunition, 50 blasting caps and 100 quarter-pound blocks of TNT.

bottling gas prices.

The Youngstown lawmaker noted the two resolutions if adopted would only express the sentiment of the Senate and would not have the weight of law.

As Meshel knows, the view of the Senate can readily be made into a law if there is widespread support.

The bill dictating service station price signs and open and closed signs could become law upon passage by both houses and the signature of the governor.

Both resolutions would request the wholesale and retail distributors of gasoline, diesel oil, fuel oil and bottled gas to report present inventories and expected supplies to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

"The resolutions, offered at a time when oil company profits are soaring to new heights, seek to stabilize fuel prices throughout Ohio," said Meshel.

Deer Creek State Park Is Playground For All

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ohio has 62 state parks, but most Ohioans are familiar with only a few of the parks and the opportunities for outdoor recreation that they offer. This is one of a series of stories designed to make Ohioans more aware of what their state parks have to offer.

Deer Creek State Park is rapidly developing to meet the growing recreation needs of Pickaway Co. and Central Ohio.

The park, about 20 miles west of Circleville off Ohio Route 207, has 7,006 acres of land, including an adjacent wildlife area, and 1,277 acres of water.

It's a good example of cooperation between the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Deer Creek Lake is the result of a dam constructed for the Corps of Engineers as a flood control project. DNR maintains the recreation facilities and the wildlife area on land leased at no cost from the Corps.

Federal, state and local officials last week opened a new camping area at the park. The 232 Class A sites, all with electric outlets, are available on a first-come, first-served basis for $2.50 a night.

The campground includes four washrooms with showers and laundry facilities, six modern restrooms, a trailer waste station and a parking lot for 42 cars and 20 cars with trailers. One washhouse is specially equipped for handicapped campers.

One of the more popular activities at the park is swimming off the park's

1,700-foot sand beach. The beach will be open through Sept. 3 with lifeguards on duty.

Nearby is a concession stand which serves sandwiches, drinks, and snacks. Also available are dressing rooms, lockers, showers, and a parking lot for 2,000 cars.

The clear lake water is popular for boating and water skiing. The park has two boat launching ramps, one off Route 207 and another near the park office. The ramp off Route 207 has 123 boat tie-ups available at $10 each for the period from March 1 through Nov. 1.

Anglers can try their luck for muskellunge, walleye, largemouth bass, and panfish.

Those visitors who just want to relax will enjoy Deer Creek's six picnic areas. About 886 picnic tables are available at two areas near the beach and four areas off Route 207.

All the picnic areas except one off Route 207 have water and modern restrooms. One area has vault-type latrines. All the picnic spots have waist-high burners for cooking.

History buffs will be interested in Harding House on the east side of the lake near the park office. The two-story cabin was once the summer home of Harry M. Daugherty, a Washington C. H. resident who was U. S. Attorney General under President Warren G. Harding.

A secluded meeting place for politicians supporting Harding, the cabin popped into the national limelight as a hideout after scandals were uncovered during and after

Harding's presidential term.

DNR is restoring the summer home to be used as a rental cabin. Sand-blasting the original pine beams and stone fireplace is one effort to restore the original home. Modern additions include an updated kitchen complete with dishwasher and air conditioning.

Hunters will try for rabbit, pheasant, and quail this fall in the wildlife area adjacent to the park and managed by DNR's division of wildlife. No hunting is permitted in the park.

Deer Creek State Park is within a 50-mile radius of Columbus, Dayton, Springfield, and Chillicothe making it less than an hour's drive for more than two million Ohioans. About 5.4 million Ohioans live within 100 miles of the park.

U.S. Pulls Last Unit From Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The United States today withdrew the last of the 216 military men it sent to Laos 16 months ago, ending a decade of direct military involvement in the Indochinese kingdom's civil war, diplomatic sources reported.

The last of the force of special "military attaches" took a commercial flight to Bangkok, Thailand, the sources said.

The Laotian peace accords specify that all foreign troops are to be out of the country by June 4. The last of more than 17,000 Thai troops pulled out two weeks ago, but military sources say there is no evidence that North Vietnamese has withdrawn any of the estimated 25,000-30,000 troops it has along its supply lines through southeast Laos to the Communist forces in South Vietnam.

Informed sources said the United States probably will continue reconnaissance flights over Laos to keep tabs on North Vietnamese troop movements.

The peace agreements also set Tuesday as the deadline for release of all prisoners of war in Laos, but U.S. sources said it looks "almost certain" that the Pathet Lao will not free American pilot Emmet James Kay.

Kay, 47, a civilian flying for Continental Air Services Inc., is the last American known to be a prisoner in Indochina. He was captured on May 7, 1973.

Solon Seeking U.N. Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry P. Smith III, a New York Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, says he is seeking appointment as a congressional liaison officer with the United Nations.

Smith, who is not seeking reelection, said he has been "working gently" toward obtaining the U.N. post after he leaves Congress.

The appointment can be made either through the U.N. or through the U.S. State Department.

The popular notion that geese are silly is misleading. Careful observation indicates that they are intelligent and resourceful in the face of danger.

New Political Leadership Urged

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New political leadership is needed to correct the nation's economic woes, the president of the United Auto Workers union told delegates to the group's 24th constitutional convention. "The economic management of the country is in palsied hands," Leonard Woodcock said Sunday as he helped open the UAW's week-long gathering.

"As President Nixon stalls impeachment proceeding ... the situation worsens," Woodcock said. He added: "We look to the 1974 elections to correct this situation. We are in trouble in this country because the executive branch has abused its power. We seek to restore a balance of power. We aren't asking for a veto-proof Congress, just one that's responsive."

SURF'S UP!—There's plenty of room for water skiers at Deer Creek State Park. The 1,277 acres of water complement the 7,006 acres of land at the state park just west of Circleville off Ohio Route 207. A 1,700-foot sand beach with a concession stand, showers, and dressing rooms is on shore behind the water skier.

GOOD CATCH—These anglers display what's available at Deer Creek State Park. Muskellunge, walleye, largemouth bass, and panfish abound below and above the Deer Creek dam, which looms in the background. How deep is your bath?

How long is your shower? You'll save a lot of hot water by reducing the depth of your bath and the time of your shower. And you'll get just as clean.

When shaving, partially fill the basin with hot water, rather than let hot water go down the drain.

Load'em up.

Automatic appliances, like your dishwasher and washer, use lots of hot water. Partial loads waste water and gas.

Need boiling water?

Start with water from your hot water faucet. Part of the heating is already done. You'll save time. But cover your pan with a lid and do the job faster with less gas.

Stop that drip.

A leak of one drop per second adds up to 650 gallons a year. When it's a hot water faucet, you're wasting water and gas.

New Appliances.

Replacing your old gas water heater with a more efficient new one will also save gas. And you can replace with confidence, because if you now have gas in your home, you will continue to be supplied.

A maintenance tip.

Drain a bucket of water from the faucet at the base of your water heater once a month. This prevents build-up of mineral deposits that cause your heater to use more gas. It will extend the life of your water heater, too.

And by saving gas and water, you'll also save another resource . . . money.

Deer Creek State Park Is Playground For All

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ohio has 62 state parks, but most Ohioans are familiar with only a few of the parks and the opportunities for outdoor recreation that they offer. This is one of a series of stories designed to make Ohioans more aware of what their state parks have to offer.

Deer Creek State Park is rapidly developing to meet the growing recreation needs of Pickaway Co. and Central Ohio.

The park, about 20 miles west of Circleville off Ohio Route 207, has 7,006 acres of land, including an adjacent wildlife area, and 1,277 acres of water.

It's a good example of cooperation between the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Deer Creek Lake is the result of a dam constructed for the Corps of Engineers as a flood control project. DNR maintains the recreation facilities and the wildlife area on land leased at no cost from the Corps.

Federal, state and local officials last week opened a new camping area at the park. The 232 Class A sites, all with electric outlets, are available on a first-come, first-served basis for $2.50 a night.

The campground includes four washrooms with showers and laundry facilities, six modern restrooms, a trailer waste station and a parking lot for 42 cars and 20 cars with trailers. One washhouse is specially equipped for handicapped campers.

One of the more popular activities at the park is swimming off the park's

1,700-foot sand beach. The beach will be open through Sept. 3 with lifeguards on duty.

Nearby is a concession stand which serves sandwiches, drinks, and snacks. Also available are dressing rooms, lockers, showers, and a parking lot for 2,000 cars.

The clear lake water is popular for boating and water skiing. The park has two boat launching ramps, one off Route 207 and another near the park office. The ramp off Route 207 has 123 boat tie-ups available at $10 each for the period from March 1 through Nov. 1.

Anglers can try their luck for muskellunge, walleye, largemouth bass, and panfish.

Those visitors who just want to relax will enjoy Deer Creek's six picnic areas. About 886 picnic tables are available at two areas near the beach and four areas off Route 207.

All the picnic areas except one off Route 207 have water and modern restrooms. One area has vault-type latrines. All the picnic spots have waist-high burners for cooking.

History buffs will be interested in Harding House on the east side of the lake near the park office. The two-story cabin was once the summer home of Harry M. Daugherty, a Washington C. H. resident who was U. S. Attorney General under President Warren G. Harding.

A secluded meeting place for politicians supporting Harding, the cabin popped into the national limelight as a hideout after scandals were uncovered during and after

Harding's presidential term.

DNR is restoring the summer home to be used as a rental cabin. Sand-blasting the original pine beams and stone fireplace is one effort to restore the original home. Modern additions include an updated kitchen complete with dishwasher and air conditioning.

Hunters will try for rabbit, pheasant, and quail this fall in the wildlife area adjacent to the park and managed by DNR's division of wildlife. No hunting is permitted in the park.

Deer Creek State Park is within a 50-mile radius of Columbus, Dayton, Springfield, and Chillicothe making it less than an hour's drive for more than two million Ohioans. About 5.4 million Ohioans live within 100 miles of the park.

U.S. Pulls Last Unit From Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The United States today withdrew the last of the 216 military men it sent to Laos 16 months ago, ending a decade of direct military involvement in the Indochinese kingdom's civil war, diplomatic sources reported.

The last of the force of special "military attaches" took a commercial flight to Bangkok, Thailand, the sources said.

The Laotian peace accords specify that all foreign troops are to be out of the country by June 4. The last of more than 17,000 Thai troops pulled out two weeks ago, but military sources say there is no evidence that North Vietnamese has withdrawn any of the estimated 25,000-30,000 troops it has along its supply lines through southeast Laos to the Communist forces in South Vietnam.

Informed sources said the United States probably will continue reconnaissance flights over Laos to keep tabs on North Vietnamese troop movements.

The peace agreements also set Tuesday as the deadline for release of all prisoners of war in Laos, but U.S. sources said it looks "almost certain" that the Pathet Lao will not free American pilot Emmet James Kay.

Kay, 47, a civilian flying for Continental Air Services Inc., is the last American known to be a prisoner in Indochina. He was captured on May 7, 1973.

Solon Seeking U.N. Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry P. Smith III, a New York Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, says he is seeking appointment as a congressional liaison officer with the United Nations.

Smith, who is not seeking reelection, said he has been "working gently" toward obtaining the U.N. post after he leaves Congress.

The appointment can be made either through the U.N. or through the U.S. State Department.

The popular notion that geese are silly is misleading. Careful observation indicates that they are intelligent and resourceful in the face of danger.

New Political Leadership Urged

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New political leadership is needed to correct the nation's economic woes, the president of the United Auto Workers union told delegates to the group's 24th constitutional convention.

"The economic management of the country is in palsied hands," Leonard Woodcock said Sunday as he helped open the UAW's week-long gathering. "As President Nixon stalls impeachment proceeding... the situation worsens," Woodcock said. He added: "We look to the 1974 elections to correct this situation. We are in trouble in this country because the executive branch has abused its power. We seek to restore a balance of power. We aren't asking for a veto-proof Congress, just one that's responsive."

Reds Turn Back Pirates, 5-1

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sunday was Pete Rose Poster Day in Cincinnati and a roaring crowd of 38,000 turned out to cheer for their home-grown hero. But today's the day the Cincinnati Reds superstar has not been waiting for.

Rose and the Reds return to New York Shea Stadium—site of last October's mini-war. The welcome mat is not expected to be out.

Rose says he's become baseball's "most booed Most Valuable Player" since his fistswinging affair with Mets' shortstop Bud Harrelson triggered a mad melee in the National League playoffs last fall.

The Reds head to New York with eight victories in their last nine games, with a three-game sweep of the Mets included in the resurgence.

Giovanni's Pizza 1 extended its record to 4-0, good enough for a first place tie in the Pickaway County Slowpitch Softball League, with a 16-3 drubbing of Robert's Sunday.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — He'd often considered quitting. He'd won less than $30,000 in 3½ years. Car trouble coming into Charlotte had just about busted him. He was down to gas money to the next stop. His wife was cooking hamburgers in the motel room.

A last-round 70. Dave Hill just missed the playoff by a single stroke at 271. He bolted into contention on the strength of a brilliant, seven-under-par 65 in the last round. Lee Trevino, also in contention until the last nine holes, had a 69-272.

Southwestern Ohio Baseballers Lead Tournament

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Blunt-speaking Howard Converse predicted a Southwestern Ohio sweep today of the 1974 state high school baseball championships.

"We should win all three classes. The best baseball is played in our area," Converse crowed Saturday after coaching Cincinnati Princeton to a 10-3 romp over Lima Senior in a Class AAA semifinal game.

Cincinnati Reading in Class AA, bidding for a fifth state baseball crown, and 1973 football playoff king Middletown Fenwick in Class A were the other Southwestern Ohio hopefuls in the finals at Ohio State University.

Princeton, 29-13, tried to succeed Cincinnati Elder as the big school champion. The Vikings faced Wickliffe, 17-8, for the Class AAA championship.

Reading, the titleholder in 1942-44-57, matched its 31-4 record against Wooster Triway's 21-4 mark for the Class AA crown, succeeding St. Paris Graham.

Fenwick, victor 28 times in 31 games this season, took on Carroll, 19-6, of Fairfield County for the Class A laurels. Portsmouth East won last year's small school crown.

Princeton posted the most one-sided verdict in the semifinals, sending 10 men to the plate in a six-run fourth inning against 1964 champion Lima Senior, out with a 16-4 record.

Meanwhile, stylish southpaw Steve Nagel scattered eight Lima hits to register his 13th pitching victory this season.

Tim Fende, a right-hander for Wickliffe, rolled up his 10th victory in a row in an unbeaten campaign, allowing only two hits in a 1-0 verdict over Toledo St. Francis.

Left-hander Ed Orick, 11-2, also tossed a two-hitter for Reading, a 4-0 victor over Genoa while Triway used a three-run third inning to oust Warsaw River View 3-1 in Class AA semifinals.

Genoa, a state tournament semifinalist in basketball in March, dropped to a 19-1 record while River View is now 23-7.

Jeff Hamilton, a junior righthander with a 8-1 record, spaced five Van Wert Lincolnview hits in a 3-1 Fenwick victory. Lincolnview was ousted with a 15-5 record.

John Baas, a Carroll senior right-hander, ran his mark to 13-2 in whipping Ashtabula St. John 4-0, thanks to three runs in the opening inning. St. John, 13-6, reached the semifinals in its first season of baseball.

Bob Menne Wins Kemper Tourney

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — He'd often considered quitting. He'd won less than $30,000 in 3½ years. Car trouble coming into Charlotte had just about busted him. He was down to gas money to the next stop. His wife was cooking hamburgers in the motel room.

And, with that background and that pressure, longshot Bob Menne birdied the final hole of regulation play to gain a tie and then scored from 30 feet on the first hole of sudden death to win the $50,000 first prize in the Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

"It means everything to me," the curly-haired man from Massachusetts said after his dramatic triumph Sunday. "It means the Masters and the Tournament of Champions. And it means money."

"Golly, $50,000."

Menne, 32, a struggler throughout his six-year tour career, whipped an iron shot to within six feet of the cup for the birdie on the 72nd hole that caught front-running Jerry Heard, then defeated the easygoing guy with the dramatic birdie putt on the first playoff hole.

"If I have to lose," said Heard, "I'm glad it's to Bob. He needs the money. I'm glad it's him and not somebody like (Jack) Nicklaus that's got more money than he'll ever need."

And Nicklaus and all the other great names in the game were in the field. They had to be. The tournament, which offered $250,000 in total prizes, is one of three designated tournaments on the schedule, tournaments in which the game's leading players are required to play.

Menne had to win his way into the field by qualifying in an 18-hole round on Monday.

He won it with a final round of 67 and a total of 270, 18 under par on the 7,085-yard Quail Hollow Country Club course. Heard matched that total with a last-round 70.

Dave Hill just missed the playoff by a single stroke at 271. He bolted into contention on the strength of a brilliant, seven-under-par 65 in the last round. Lee Trevino, also in contention until the last nine holes, had a 69—272.

Billy Casper and J.C. Snead, each with a 69, were at 273. The other big guns were strung out further back.

Jack Nicklaus had 70—278. Johnny Miller was 70—280. Gary Player scored 72-286. Arnold Palmer and Tom Weiskopf started but didn't qualify for the final two rounds.

5 Tigers Join Post 25 AL Team

Paul England, a graduate of Circleville High School who has been playing baseball for Marietta College, heads four other CHS players on the Paul H. Hughey Post 25 American Legion baseball team from Washington C. H.

They play in the South Central Ohio League.

Other Tigers on the team are Phil Roll, a pitcher; Pat and Tim McNaughten, outfielders; and Mark Scherer, first team All-SCOL second baseman.

England is the veteran of the squad, leading last year's team in batting average, base hits, and runs batted in. He hit .342 in 21 games last year on 26 base hits and collected 17 RBIs.

The Post 25 team opened its season Saturday with a doubleheader against Portsmouth. They tangle with Chillicothe Post 62 Wednesday.

Arnold Palmer is the only golf pro to win the American classic twice. He scored in 1962 and again in 1967, shooting 276 both times.

cluded in the resurgence.

Sunday, Cincinnati rode the pitching of Fred Norman and Pedro Borbon to a 5-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The triumph came a day after the Bucs had humbled the Reds 14-1, snapping a seven-game winning streak.

But the victory may have been costly. Norman, who sports the best earned run average among the five-man starting staff, suffered a pulled rib cage muscle. His status is cloudy, according to a Reds physician.

Norman yielded only two hits in 6 2-3 innings, before the muscle pull forced him off the mound.

"You don't like to come out of a game with a two-hitter, but I just couldn't go any further," he said. "From the fourth inning on it kept getting a little worse."

Meanwhile, he was getting support from Tony Perez, who slammed his 100th home run in Cincinnati, and Dave Concepcion who drilled three hits.

Borbon came on to nail down the victory for Norman, now 5-5. Bruce

Chris Evert Wins Rome Tennis Open

ROME (AP) — It wasn't her richest victory, but Chris Evert was really happy she had finally won a major international tennis tournament.

Miss Evert, 19, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., beat 17-year-old Martina Navratilova of Czechoslovakia 6-3, 6-3 Sunday in the final of the women's singles at the Rome Tennis Open.

Miss Evert plays in the French Open later this week. She was a finalist there last year, as she was in Rome and Wimbledon.

The women's top prize in Rome was $5,000. Miss Evert has won much more in other tournaments.

"It's not just the money, it's the prestige," she said. "That's why I want to win in Paris."

Miss Evert and Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union were declared the winners in the women's doubles. West Germans Helga Masthoff and Heide Orth defaulted and the match was not played.

Fourth-seeded Stan Smith, meanwhile, bowed to top-seeded Ilie Nastase of Romania 6-2, 6-2, 6-4 in the semifinals of men's singles competition in one the American's poorest performances on clay.

Nastase was to play for the title Monday against the winner of the semifinal between thirdseeded Bjorn Borg of Norway and Guillermo Vilas of Argentina. Their battle was postponed by darkness.

10 Players Exempt In Akron Classic

AKRON—The American Golf Classic's player selection committee has granted exemptions to 10 players for the $170,000 event which will be played June 17-23 on the Firestone Country Club's South Course.

"The list includes several veteran players, as well as three young pros who will be making their first start in the Classic," noted C.R. "Chuck" Allen, chairman of the player selection committee.

Facing the 7,180-yard, par 70 "Monster" for the first time will be Andy North, 25, a three-time collegiate All-American who earned over $68,000 in his first year as a pro; Artie McNickle, 29, a 1972 TPD Qualifying School Grad who tied for fifth in the U.S. Match-Play Classic last year; and Eddie Pearce, 22, a former collegiate star at Wake Forest who is a 1973 TPD Qualifying School grad.

The players granted exemptions include Frank Wharton, pro at Fairlawn Country Club in Akron, who has played in four previous Classics; Duff Lawrence, pro at Canterbury Golf Club in Cleveland, site of the 1973 PGA Championship; veteran Bill Collins, who last played at Firestone in the 1960 PGA Championship; and Ron Cerrudo, the five-year pro who still holds the record for the highest finish — 13th place — for an amateur in the American Golf Classic, set in 1967.

Also extended invitations were veteran Bobby Mitchell, who finished fourth here in 1969; Jerry McGee, the New Lexington, Ohio, native and former Ohio State player who earned over $46,000 last year; and Bob E. Smith, a six-year pro who earned over $41,000 in 1973.

The 10 sponsor-exempted players will join an elite field, including defending champion Bruce Crampton, in the chase for a $34,000 first prize.

Already in the field are former champions Frank Beard (1970), Al Geiberger (1965), Jerry Heard (1971), Johnny Pott (1963), Ken Venturi (1964) and Bert Yancey (1972), as well as such stars as Tom Weiskopf, Lanny Wadkins, Firestone pro Bobby Nichols, former Masters champions Gay Brewer and Charles Coody, and Gene Littler.

Former major league outfielder Danny Litwhiler has coached college teams the past 19 seasons. After nine years at Florida State he has been Michigan State's coach the past 10 seasons.

Fullen Gaining Reputation As Top Quarterhorse Trainer

HOMEMADE AND HANDY—Steve Fullen designed and built from scrap his own four horse trailer. Construction took three years

What began as a natural love for animals built on a farm background turned into a profitable avocation for the Steve Fullen family of Deercreek Twp.

Steve is a breeder and trainer of quarterhorses, not for racing but for the show circuit. With the profit from the avocation, he and his wife, Onda, plan to pay off the mortgage on their recently purchased home in Deercreek Twp. and pay for the education of their children, Jeff, age 10, and Tami, age 5.

Right now the family has what Steve terms "probably as good a filly as I'll ever own."

That filly is the yearling, I'm A Lou Lou, sired by Hi Jo's Skip, an American Quarterhorse Assn. champion and out of Honey's Princess, owned and raised from a colt by the Fullen family.

When Steve and Onda were married, each of them owned a pleasure horse. They traded their two horses for one good Quarterhorse mare. They thought they were acquiring an open mare, but it turned out she was in foal. And the foal she dropped was Honey's Princess.

Steve has traveled 3,000 miles already this spring to shows around the state with I'm A Lou Lou and her half brother, Hillcreeks Hi Skip, a stud yearling.

He is hoping to end the season sometime this fall with two Ohio halter champions. He has already accumulated 75 unofficial points with I'm A Lou Lou, far ahead of his closest competitor, and 29 unofficial points with Hillcreeks Hi Skip owned by Dr. Richard W. Beckman, DDS, of Mt. Sterling, although the latter has been on the circuit only three weeks.

I'm A Lou Lou was second at Columbus, Springfield and Bloomington Ind. Shows this year and first at Hamilton, Medina, Penfield, Vandalia, twice at Maumee and Falls of the Rough, Ky.

Hillcreeks Hi Skip was first at Carthage and Dayton and second at Hamilton, Medina and Springfield. Much of Steve's experience as a trainer came working for Dr. Beckman at his quarterhorse farm, Tokim Acres.

It is a busy life for Steve. He has worked at the Circleville General Electric Lamp Plant for 13 years, presently working out of the machine shop on the day shift.

While still living in Circleville, Steve designed and built a four-horse trailer with an area for sleeping in the front. He constructed it almost completely out of scrap materials. It took three years to build.

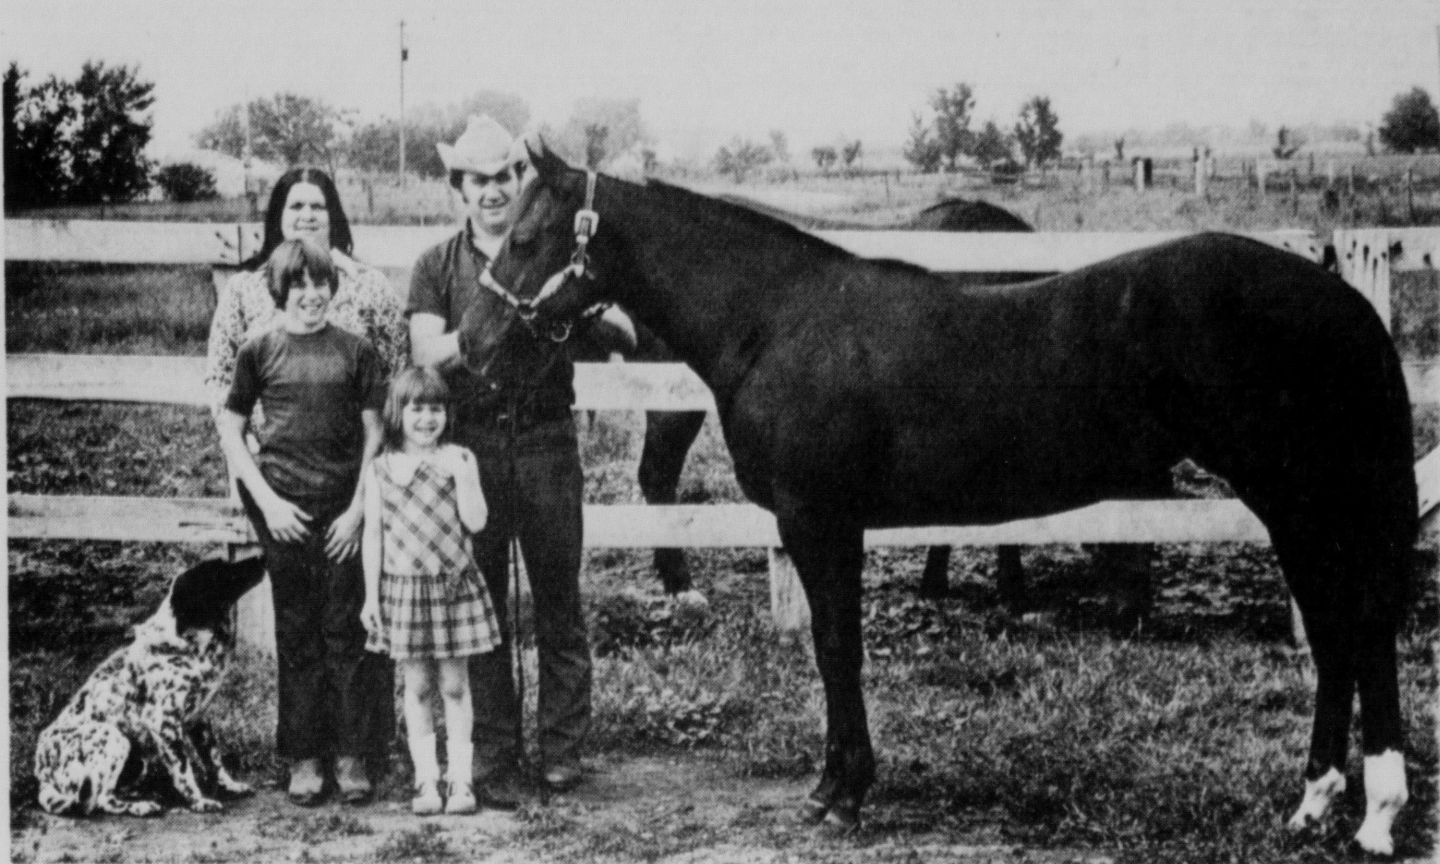

In February, 1973, the Fullen family purchased two acres and an old farm house in Deercreek Twp. during the past year and four months they have completely renovated the interior and added a water system.

In addition, Steve has remodeled an old hog barn into a horse barn with box stalls and has built some board fence.

during his spare time. It includes a sleeping area in the front that comes in handy when the Fullens are at a weekend horseshow.

All this he has done while campaigning on the show circuit nearly every weekend during the season and breaking and training horses for other owners.

When a show is in the central Ohio area, the entire family goes, including Spectator, a mongrel dog they own. But when an overnight stay is entailed,

FULLEN FAMILY—A love for horses is turning into profitable sidelines for Steve Fullen of Deercreek Twp. He breaks, trains and shows quarterhorses. The Fullen family consists of Spectator, the dog, Onda and someone has to stay home to take care of the stock. This duty usually falls upon Onda and Tami. Spectator makes all the shows with his master and Jeff travels to most of them to help out.

Steve, their children Jeff and Tami, and the filly I'm A Lou Lou, a registered quarterhorse. Behind the fence is I'm A Lou Lou's dam, Honey's Princess.

During the week it is Jeff's duty to feed and water the horses while his father is doing the training or working around the homestead. He has broken and trained 10 horses already this spring.

Steve hopes someday in the not too distant future to build an arena so he can train the year around regardless of the weather conditions.

And looking even further ahead, after the children have been through college and retirement time approaches, Steve and Onda hope their hobby will turn into a profitable vocation.

Judy Rankin Baltimore Golf Winner

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth says a rain-shortened golf tournament leaves "an unfinished feeling," but Sunday's storm didn't dampen the spirits of Judy Rankin.

"A win is a win," said Mrs. Rankin, who pocketed a check for $5,700 after officials of the Baltimore Golf Championship canceled the final round and declared her the winner with a two-under par 144 for 36 holes.

Mrs. Rankin conceded that it "takes a little off by sort of backing in," but noted she had played well in the first two rounds except for consecutive bogies on the 13th, 14th and 15th holes in Saturday's second round.

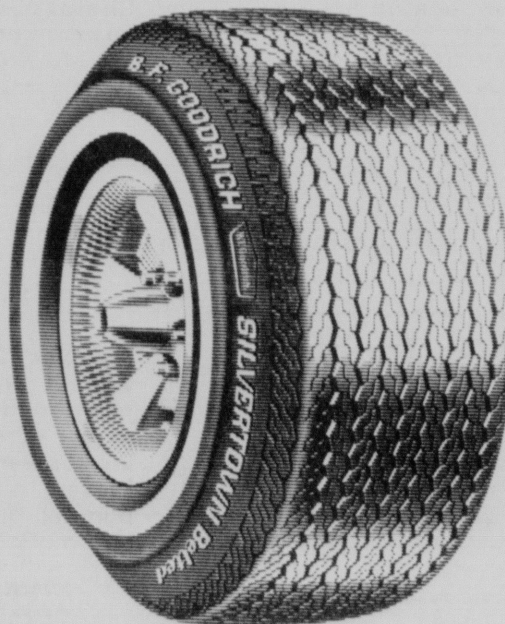

Before faltering, Mrs. Rankin held a four-stroke lead and was threatening to make a runaway of the $40,000 tournament. But she was on top at the end of each round, while successfully defending a tournament title for the first time.

The abrupt ending supplied an unexpected bonus for Mrs. Berning. "I was getting pretty tired, because I haven't had a week off all year," she said. "This should help me in getting ready for Las Vegas."

A $100,000 tournament opens in Las Vegas, Nev., on Thursday, and difficulty in lining up airline passage helped convince officials to cancel the final round rather than reschedule it for today. In addition, the course was in bad shape after two days of rain.

Angry A's Trip Milwaukee

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

The Oakland A's are still mad at the world ... and the rest of the American League's West Division isn't laughing much, either.

The A's, who seem to play best when they're sore about something, had a couple of gripes as they ran their winning streak to four games and 17 of 23 with Sunday's 6-4 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

The two-time world champs are starting to put some daylight between themselves and

32 Golfers Seeking Berths In Qualifier

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A field of 32 golfers eyes four berths in today's U.S. Open Sectional golf qualifying round at Cloverbrook Country Club.

Among the field of 26 pros and six amateurs are pros Jim O'Hern of Goshen, Ky., and Geoff Hensley of Cincinnati. They earned two of the five spots awarded last year.

The golfers will be trying to qualify for the Open, scheduled for June 13-15 at Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y.

the rest of the division. After the victory over the Brewers, the A's have a 3 1/2-game bulge over the second-place Kansas City Royals.

Elsewhere, the Baltimore Orioles nipped the Texas Rangers 6-5 in 10 innings, the Boston Red Sox outslugged the Chicago White Sox 9-7, the Cleveland Indians trimmed Kansas City 5-2, the New York Yankees pounded the Minnesota Twins 11-1 and the Detroit Tigers shaded the California Angels 2-0.

Winning pitcher Catfish Hunter was angry about being lifted. And some A's were upset by a post-game player move that saw backup first baseman Pat Bourque sent to the minors. Hunter checked the Brewers on seven hits, including Bob Coluccio's second-inning homer, before giving way to Rolie Fingers after two-out singles by George Scott and Ron Darrell Porter in the eighth inning. Bob Hansen greeted the reliever with a run-scoring single.

Bourque, hitting a solid .286, was farmed out to make room for light-hitting infielder Dal Maxvill, reactivated from the disabled list.

Oakland's key hitting was done by Reggie Jackson, who slammed his 14th and 15th home runs, and Joe Rudi, who cracked a three-run shot.

Orioles 6, Rangers 5
Rich Coggins singled home pinch runner Al Bumby with two out in the 10th inning, giving rookie Wayne Garland his first major league triumph with 5 2-3 innings of two-hits relief.

Red Sox 9, White Sox 7
Rico Petrocelli drilled a pair of two-run homers, one of them capping a five-run third inning. The victory was the 11th in the last 14 games for the Red Sox and gave them a 1 1/2-game lead over Milwaukee in the American League East.

Indians 5, Royals 2
Solo homers by Leron Lee, Oscar Gamble and Dave Duncan boosted Gaylord Perry and the Indians over Kansas City.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FORTUESDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Get another's point of view before making final decisions. You may be pleasantly surprised at the new perspectives you gain.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Be flexible, but not easily turned by every wind that blows; eager to take new steps forward, but not at the cost of future losses or setbacks.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Curb a tendency toward inertia, lackadaisical action. Stress self-discipline. Current matters need further study. Some trends changing.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Lunar influences encourage well-organized moves, but you will need all your resourcefulness to straighten out a few kinks before "taking off."

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Stellar influences somewhat adverse. Shun contentious matters, unscrupulous persons, risky and untried ventures.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): You may now expect a "different" approach from others; also a real surprise. The manner in which you meet these will have great bearing on ultimate aims.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Satisfactory gains indicated through carrying on with present operations, but day will not be good for starting new ventures.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): You may encounter a few baffling situations: Remain undisturbed, neither overanxious nor careless. Avoid excesses and extremes.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): An auspicious day. Seek solutions to pending problems through conferences, consultation with experts. Be concise and efficient without stepping on anyone's toes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Mixed influences, mixed possibilities. How you react to opposition and unexpected obstacles will tell the tale.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Especially favored now: all creative efforts (writings especially), travel, meetings of purpose. Earnings can be increased through any of these avenues.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Stars now promise benefits from past efforts as well as surprising developments — and achievement — in recently stagnant areas.

YOU BORN TODAY are an extremely intelligent individual, highly imaginative and original in your ideas and methods. Your curiosity is boundless, thus you are unceasing in your quest for knowledge. This curiosity, incidentally, makes you a "natural" for the fields of journalism, science and exploration. However, your unusual versatility and readiness of comprehension fit you for many other vocations, and you could succeed admirably as an editor, musician, research worker, actor or novelist. You love travel but, unlike most born under Gemini, you have great stability, not scattering energies but content, when necessary, to "stay put" and concentrate on immediate objectives. Thus, you often succeed more quickly in reaching your goals. Birthdate of: King George III, of England; Rosalind Russell, stage and film star.

2 Franchises For Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Memphis, a city that didn't have a professional football team in April, may have two this month.

"It's possible the city will have two pro football teams," said Mike Lynn, leader of an eight-year drive to obtain a National Football League expansion team for the city.

NFL supporters say Memphis has a good chance of being named as a franchise site by NFL owners at their meeting Tuesday in New York, in spite of the fact that the World Football League has established the Memphis Southmen.

Blues Pound Charleston

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Memphis Blues pounded the Charleston Charles 5-2 and 7-4 Sunday to sweep their four-game International League series.

The wins improved the Blues' lead to three games over Richmond in the IL's South Division.

In other action Sunday, Rochester downed Toledo, 8-2; Syracuse lashed Pawtucket, 9-0. Richmond at Tidewater was postponed because of rain.

For several years, race horses have had identifying numbers tattooed inside their lips to prevent fixing.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — A murkiness is a statement which gives the illusion of something profound. We cite as a prime example the saying, "He who would rule the sand must be brother to the wind."

Tonight, public television is offering a one-hour murkiness called "Video: The New Wave." It's described as "highly personal statements by a new wave of artists experimenting in the early stage of the video revolution."

It might better be described as "how to study under Ernie Kovacs and flunk the course."

Some 30 pieces of experimental video artwork are on display, many of them electronic abstractions in which shapes are altered, bizarre noises made and eyes tortured.

It will be a bonanza for those wont to cry, "How profound! How profound!" when a work of modern art has them stumped. For civilians, the show may simply appear the work of cuckoos.

However, both sides will enjoy a brief, funny sequence, taped by San Francisco's Top Value Television crew, in which CBS' Roger Mudd refuses to answer TVT questions at the 1972 GOP national convention.

Our knowledgeable guide throughout this tour of television's rarely seen avant-garde gallery is an art critic, Brian O'Doherty, whose commentary is not unlike that of an art critic.

up, he advises that the work is "reflective, transcendental, mystical."

As another artist electronically alters a photograph of himself and his father, we're told the piece "brings into this medium subtleties rarely found in it." He is right.

As we see a block of ice consumed by fire, we learn "the content is not in the result, but in the process."

The show's high spot arrives with a study of transparent tape on a wood floor. And our guide observes: "The tape as it lies asks, 'Where am I?' Removing the tape gives the answer."

After 40 minutes, I asked, "Where am I?" Removing myself gave the answer.

I know I shouldn't knock creative efforts, but I got to thinking about all this and, honest to Pete, the whole thing is plumb ridiculous.

Redman Winner Of Mid-Ohio

LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Brian Redman, still savoring his fifth straight Formula 5000 road racing victory, predicts tougher competition for the balance of 1974.

"This race is not a good indication of what's going to come in this series," said the 37-year-old Briton Sunday after his 74-second triumph over American Brett Lunger in the Mid-Ohio opener.

"The other teams will become more competitive," added Redman, the runnerup to 1973 Formula 5000 driving champion Jody Scheckter of South Africa.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Curb a tendency toward inertia, lackadaisical action. Stress self-discipline. Current matters need further study. Some trends changing.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Lunar influences encourage well-organized moves, but you will need all your resourcefulness to straighten out a few kinks before "taking off."

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Stellar influences somewhat adverse. Shun contentious matters, unscrupulous persons, risky and untried ventures.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): You may now expect a "different" approach from others; also a real surprise. The manner in which you meet these will have great bearing on ultimate aims.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Satisfactory gains indicated through carrying on with present operations, but day will not be good for starting new ventures.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): You may encounter a few baffling situations: Remain undisturbed, neither overanxious nor careless. Avoid excesses and extremes.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): An auspicious day. Seek solutions to pending problems through conferences, consultation with experts. Be concise and efficient without stepping on anyone's toes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Mixed influences, mixed possibilities. How you react to opposition and unexpected obstacles will tell the tale.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Especially favored now: all creative efforts (writings especially), travel, meetings of purpose. Earnings can be increased through any of these avenues.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Stars now promise benefits from past efforts as well as surprising developments — and achievement — in recently stagnant areas.

YOU BORN TODAY are an extremely intelligent individual, highly imaginative and original in your ideas and methods. Your curiosity is boundless, thus you are unceasing in your quest for knowledge. This curiosity, incidentally, makes you a "natural" for the fields of journalism, science and exploration. However, your unusual versatility and readiness of comprehension fit you for many other vocations, and you could succeed admirably as an editor, musician, research worker, actor or novelist. You love travel but, unlike most born under Gemini, you have great stability, not scattering energies but content, when necessary, to "stay put" and concentrate on immediate objectives. Thus, you often succeed more quickly in reaching your goals. Birthdate of: King George III, of England; Rosalind Russell, stage and film star.

2 Franchises For Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Memphis, a city that didn't have a professional football team in April, may have two this month.

"It's possible the city will have two pro football teams," said Mike Lynn, leader of an eight-year drive to obtain a National Football League expansion team for the city.

NFL supporters say Memphis has a good chance of being named as a franchise site by NFL owners at their meeting Tuesday in New York, in spite of the fact that the World Football League has established the Memphis Southmen.

Blues Pound Charleston

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Memphis Blues pounded the Charleston Charles 5-2 and 7-4 Sunday to sweep their four-game International League series.

The wins improved the Blues' lead to three games over Richmond in the IL's South Division.

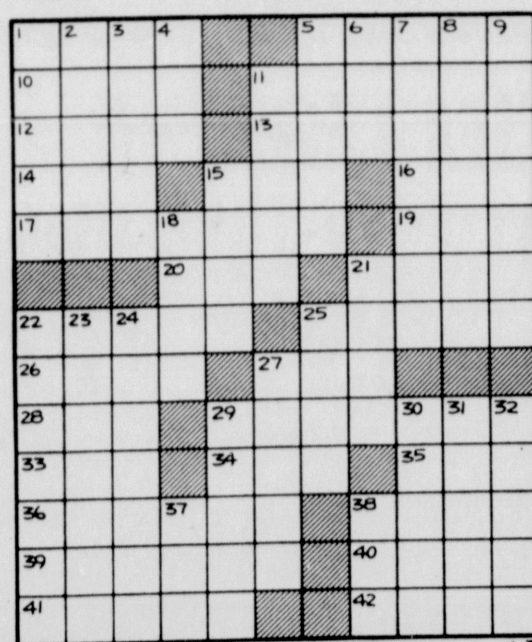

In other action Sunday, Rochester downed Toledo, 8-2; Syracuse lashed Pawtucket, 9-0. Richmond at Tidewater was postponed because of rain.

For several years, race horses have had identifying numbers tattooed inside their lips to prevent fixing.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — A murkiness is a statement which gives the illusion of something profound. We cite as a prime example the saying, "He who would rule the sand must be brother to the wind."

Tonight, public television is offering a one-hour murkiness called "Video: The New Wave." It's described as "highly personal statements by a new wave of artists experimenting in the early stage of the video revolution."

It might better be described as "how to study under Ernie Kovacs and flunk the course."

Some 30 pieces of experimental video artwork are on display, many of them electronic abstractions in which shapes are altered, bizarre noises made and eyes tortured.

It will be a bonanza for those wont to cry, "How profound! How profound!" when a work of modern art has them stumped. For civilians, the show may simply appear the work of cuckoos.

However, both sides will enjoy a brief, funny sequence, taped by San Francisco's Top Value Television crew, in which CBS' Roger Mudd refuses to answer TWT questions at the 1972 GOP national convention.

Our knowledgeable guide throughout this tour of television's rarely seen avant garde gallery is an art critic, Brian O'Doherty, whose commentary is not unlike that of an art critic.

As one set of images shape up, he advises that the work is "reflective, transcendental, mystical."

As another artist electronically alters a photograph of himself and his father, we're told the piece "brings into this medium subtleties rarely found in it." He is right.

As we see a block of ice consumed by fire, we learn "the content is not in the result, but in the process."

The show's high spot arrives with a study of transparent tape on a wood floor. And our guide observes: "The tape as it lies asks, 'Where am I?' Removing the tape gives the answer."

After 40 minutes, I asked, "Where am I?" Removing myself gave the answer.

I know I shouldn't knock creative efforts, but I got to thinking about all this and, honest to Pete, the whole thing is plumb ridiculous.

Redman Winner Of Mid-Ohio

LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Brian Redman, still savoring his fifth straight Formula 5000 road racing victory, predicts tougher competition for the balance of 1974.

"This race is not a good indication of what's going to come in this series," said the 37-year-old Briton Sunday after his 74-second triumph over American Brett Langer in the Mid-Ohio opener.

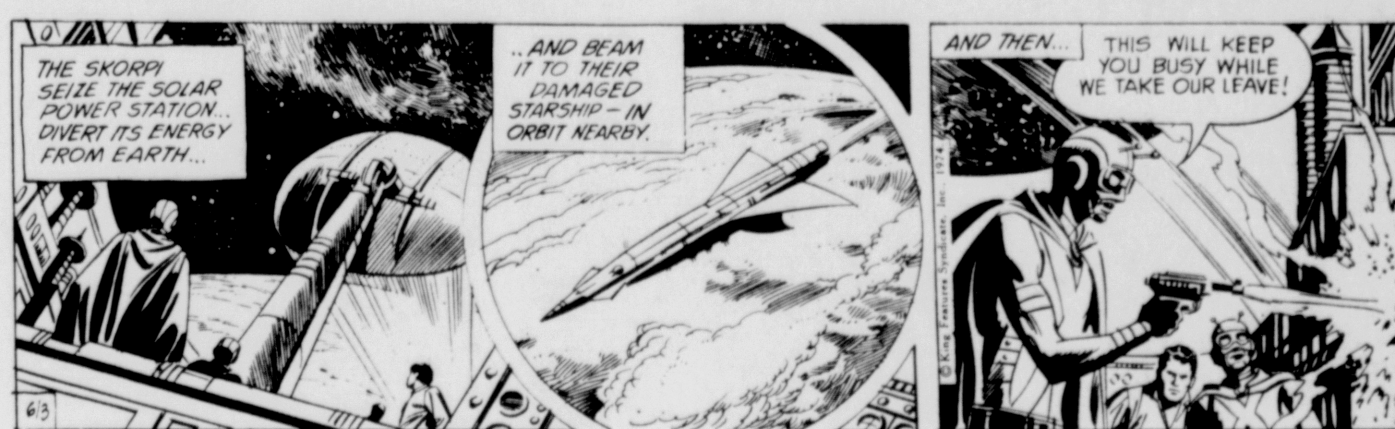

"The other teams will become more competitive," added Redman, the runnerup to 1973 Formula 5000 driving champion Jody Scheckter of South Africa.

Ohio's Most Popular Historic Attractions In Tuscarawas County

ZOAR GARDENS—The central gardens at Zoar Village in Tuscarawas County were planted by Zoarseparatists to represent Christ surrounded by the 12 apostles.

SCHOENBRUNN VILLAGE—Candle dipping is one of many crafts demonstrated by costumed guides at Schoenbrunn Village in New Philadelphia. Schoenbrunn is one of the states most visited historic sites.

Interstate 77 can lead your family to three of Ohio's most popular historic attractions in Tuscarawas County.

Take the Bolivar exit off this modern highway and, in an instant, you've stepped back two centuries to the site of Ohio's only Revolutionary War fort. Fort Laurens, named for Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress, served to establish the supply lines that eventually led to the defeat of the British at Detroit and on the Great Lakes.

The original fort has been outlined to show the location of its log palisade walls and is surrounded by a beautiful 81-acre park. The new circular Fort Laurens Museum was carefully designed to stand in harmony with the natural environment of the area.

The museum retells the story of the Americans who manned this outpost against the British and their Indian allies and of their constant battle for survival in the wilderness. The men had to eat cooked beef hides and the soles of their shoes to avoid starvation that first bitter winter. A number of life-size mannequins, created from the actual plastic casts of Ohio Historical Society staff members, portray the primitive conditions under which the men had to live.

In 1972 an archaeological expedition at the fort unearthed many artifacts that had been left there almost 200 years ago.

All of the exhibits curve about the central core of the museum where a multi-media presentation entitled "The American Revolution" is shown every thirty minutes. With six projectors, music and narration, this show relives the American struggle for independence and the founding of Fort Laurens.

Just three miles away, on State Route 212, Zoar Village is preserved as one of America's most successful experiments in communal living.

More than 150 years ago, the Zoar Separatists fled from Germany to this hilly region of eastern Ohio to escape religious persecution. The plain and simple life they shaped for themselves can still be seen as you wander through the streets of this quaint village.

The central garden of Zoar was laid out according to the description of New Jerusalem of the 21st Chapter of the Book of Revelations. From spring till frost, the garden is alive with a kaleidoscope of colors and enchanting

Set Record On Roller Coaster

KINGS MILLS, Ohio (AP) — Rain showers were more of a problem than queasy stomachs as four teen-aged boys from Ohio and Indiana rode a roller coaster 36 hours during the weekend to establish a world record. "Our only problem was keeping dry during the rain Friday," said Ralph Rice, 19, of Dayton.

The youths efforts broke by five hours the former mark of 31 hours set in 1968 by six Englishmen.

The record was set at the Kings Island amusement park near Cincinnati. The trip lasted from 10:07 a.m. Friday to 10:07 p.m. Saturday.

Officials said the ride covered a total of 546 miles and 728 laps. The boys agreed to physical examinations before attempting the ride and consumed liquid nutrients during the once-an-hour stops.

Accompanying Rice was Joe Hummer, 18, also of Dayton, and Michael Meir, 16, and Corky Lamb, 17, both of Indianapolis.

The auxiliary expressed appreciation to the PICKAWAY County Radio Patrol, members of the Tarlton Fire Department who walked and to the people in the community whose generosity made this walk so successful.

Following the presentation of trophies the Ladies Auxiliary met in the home of Judy Parker in Laurelville. George Bethel, president, presided over the business meeting. The members voted to present the men of the fire department with a check to use toward expenses on the firehouse.

Court Denies Motion For Probation

Judge William Ammer denied a motion to suspend further execution of sentence filed by Okey Darrell Conner under the shock probation statute. Conner was sentenced to 1-5 years in the Mansfield Reformatory for Men after being convicted of grand larceny in Pickaway county Common Pleas Court on March 1.

The court denied the motion on the grounds of Conner's previous record both as a juvenile and as an adult. Examination of the employment record of the man also entered into the court's decision. A report showed Conner had failed to maintain any type of steady employment.

Shock probation was originally designed for first offenders who are unlikely to continue a life of crime if placed on probation after spending time in a penal institution.

Many of the shops and homes, in some cases 140 years old, have been restored to their simple elegance over the past few years. The greenhouse is filled with unusual tropical plants, like orange and lemon trees, that bask in the warm sun pouring in through hundreds of small glass panes. The No. 1 house has 18 completely furnished rooms open to the public and a cool cellar for storing barrels of wine. The blacksmith, tinsmith, cabinetmaker and wagon shops are complete with tools and many of their products. It's still almost possible to smell hot gingerbread at the oven in the bakery.

Everywhere you go in Zoar you'll be greeted by cheerful guides in long dresses, white aprons, scarves and stiffly starched caps. Whether it's an answer for a question on the village or posing with your family for a snapshot, they can make your visit far more enjoyable.

Finally, to complete your day in Ohio's yesterday, drive a few miles south to New Philadelphia and Schoenbrunn, older than Ohio itself.

This fascinating log cabin community, founded by David Zeisberger, a Moravian missionary, in 1772, is one of the state's most visited historic sites.

Nineteen reconstructed cabins line the main street and are surrounded by 2½ acres of planted fields. The cabins range from simple homes with dirt floors and smoke holes in the roof to more comfortable structures with wooden floors, stone fireplaces and glass windows.

Several years ago, a demonstration program was added at Schoenbrunn to make a visit there even more interesting. Today, you'll find mat and basket weaving, spinning, candle making, cooking and farming carried on by authentically costumed workers as they were more than 200 years ago.

A small museum, also housed in a log cabin, relates the tragic story of the people of Schoenbrunn who tried to bring Christianity to the Indians of the area, only to be caught in the bitterness of the American Revolution.

Fort Laurens and Zoar Village are open from April through October from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday. Schoenbrunn is open daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., from May through September, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in April and October. Admission

Conner was sentenced to 1-5 years in the Mansfield Reformatory for Men after being convicted of grand larceny in Pickaway county Common Pleas Court on March 1.

The court denied the motion on the grounds of Conner's previous record both as a juvenile and as an adult. Examination of the employment record of the man also entered into the court's decision. A report showed Conner had failed to maintain any type of steady employment.

Shock probation was originally designed for first offenders who are unlikely to continue a life of crime if placed on probation after spending time in a penal institution.

ASK US FOR A RAIN CHECK!

We do all in our power to have all our Advertised Specials on our shelves when you shop for them. Sometimes, due to conditions beyond our control, we run out of an advertised special. If this should happen to you, ask the store office for a RAIN CHECK which entitles you to the same advertised special at the same special price any time within 2 weeks.

A SURE WAY TO CUT FOOD COSTS

You're concerned about holding down your weekly food bills. Kroger shares your concern! But supermarkets have no control over the wholesale costs we must pay—and when those costs go up, they must eventually be reflected in retail prices.

There is a way you can cut your food bills right away . . . and without sacrificing quality or flavor. Food shopping experts across the nation recommend that you buy your supermarket's own brands. These offer quality equal to the nation's best-selling brands, yet are usually priced lower.

At Kroger, we offer several of our own fine brands. You'll see our own name, "Kroger," on most of them. Other high-quality Kroger brands include such familiar names as Country Club, Royal Viking, or Yubi. Strict specifications for these products call for quality equal to or better than the national brand most people buy.

And remember . . . every product sold at Kroger is Guaranteed Unconditionally. If you're not pleased, we'll replace it or give your money back. So why not try the Kroger Brands? You've nothing to lose and a lot to gain.
